

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

Stay Engaged + Informed. We have a long fight ahead. Follow national and local organizations working for abortion justice.

Destigmatize Abortion. Tell someone you love your abortion stories, and listen deeply and with empathy to the abortion stories of others. Together, we can make sure abortion care is accessible, affordable, and free from shame and stigma for all. Volunteer and Donate to your local independent clinic, local abortion fund, and reproductive justice organizations.

Urge Congress and the White House to Act quickly to put in place policies to ensure that abortion is not only legal but accessible to anyone who needs it regardless of their income or geography.

Demand a court that protects all of our rights.

Processes that past presidents and politicians have used to stack the court in their favor are unjust. The Supreme Court must uphold nearly 50 years of precedent and protect our constitutional right to abortion.

Fight to end the filibuster.

CALL YOUR SENATORS

HOW TO FOLD A ZINE 8.5" x 11"

I had an abortion in 1994. It wasn't okay to talk about it and it was barely legal in my very conservative state. It was absolutely the correct choice for me to make. As my daughter was growing up I wanted to make the world she was inheriting a safe, accepting and empowering place so I work always for her and the others who come behind me to make sure they don't ever have to be as isolated and afraid as I was. — Esther, CA

I was a single mom at 26, had just moved to AZ with no family and a 6-year-old when I had an abortion. I had been on the pill for 5+ years and was the .1% who still got pregnant despite my best efforts. It was super hard to walk past the protesters and terrible signs but 23 years later, I have never looked back or regretted my choice. I have since had a tubal pregnancy rupture that almost caused me to bleed out before being seen at an ER, I miscarried once and had two more children. I built my family on my terms when I was ready and that was nobody's choice to make but mine. Those choices must never be restricted for anyone! — Tina, AZ
