Save time, reduce errors, and eliminate friction in your source-to-pay process

Procurement may be responsible for consolidating spending, maximising supplier performance and ensuring compliance with company sourcing policy. However, limited visibility into contract terms and statuses — and inefficient contract generation and approval processes — can make achieving these goals challenging. Lack of system integration across the source-to-pay lifecycle can result in costly mistakes associated with outdated or erroneous information, excessive manual data entry and lost time moving between systems.

Docusign CLM (Contract Lifecycle Management) allows you to streamline the contract lifecycle by automating manual tasks, orchestrating complex workflows and reducing unnecessary risk. It provides document generation, collaboration and workflows, plus native integration with Docusign eSignature and a searchable repository for completed agreements in a modern, accessible application optimised for desktop and mobile.
The Docusign CLM Connector for Coupa simplifies the procure-to-pay process by allowing your procurement team to work in Coupa while collaborating with legal and other stakeholders for swift contract approvals and completion using Docusign CLM. Connect your Coupa account with CLM to automatically create or update contracts and metadata in Coupa or Docusign CLM. Share agreements and data across systems to increase visibility while also minimising manual work. Generate fewer errors, more efficiency and less friction in your procurement processes.
