

We're All Connected.

Introducing the 2023 Students Rebuild Welcoming Refugees Project

No matter what we believe, where we live, or who we are, we are all part of one global community.

This year, we're inviting YOU to join student "artists" from around the world in learning about refugees and the local actions we can take to make our communities more welcoming. Then, create art to welcome refugees into your own community and share it with us. This year, we'll be making artfully illustrated postcards to welcome our new refugee friends!

We can make a difference if we all join in. For each piece of art you send our way, we'll donate money on your behalf to help young refugees and their families around the world! Check out who your art will be supporting:

How to Get Involved

Take three simple but powerful steps to get started in your artist journey:

- 1 Dig deep! Use Students Rebuild's free resources to learn about welcoming refugees in your community and around the world, and begin to draw inspiration for your art.
- 2 Let's create! When we create art for someone else, we're all in—mind, body, and spirit. Create a postcard welcoming refugees that reflects culture, community and connection. If you make something, share it!
- 3 We're almost there! Send your artwork to us. For each piece of art Students Rebuild receives, we will make a $5 donation on your behalf to our partners providing humanitarian relief around the world.

This year's Students Rebuild Challenge kicks off September 13, 2022 and ends June 2023.
