

Choose your agent
with confidence

lpma.com

LPMA

Leading Property
Managers Association

lpma.com

LPMA

Leading Property
Managers Association

Why choose an LPMA member?

Take the guesswork out of finding a great Property Management Agency by choosing an LPMA member.

LPMA members are part of the only professional property management network in Australia.

LPMA members;

- are bound by standards of service and conduct
- commit to service excellence
- conduct regular training and are committed to career development
- lead industry best practice

Each agency within our network is committed to service excellence and ongoing professional learning and development – it's part of our DNA.

Members also have access to industry leading technology, people and resources including;

- strategic support and Australia's largest collection of property management tools, resources and training material
- one of the most respected industry awards and recognition programs
- access to industry experts who consult on a variety of disciplines
- influence over the direction of the property management industry through a series of events and strategic retreats

Your investment is in experienced hands with an LPMA Member.

Industry leading resources, people and strategic support