Dear

I hope you are well.

The contingency budget has now been opened for you. You should now be able to make the two claims as approved by the panel. When you do, please could you add a note referencing CAS-172427 and explain you have had a contingency application approved for the costs using the 'Add information' button in the claim screen.

If you have any difficulties in raising the claim, please let me know.

Kind regards,

Account Manager

Dear [REDACTED]

I hope you are well.

I have asked my colleagues in the finance team to open the contingency budget in the system to allow the claims approved at the contingency panel to go through - to the value of £1,226. Once this has been completed, I will let you know. You should then be able to make the two claims.

In the meantime, please let me know if you have any questions.

Kind regards,

[REDACTED]

Dear Jackie,

This email is just to confirm that yesterday at our contingency panel the claims were approved. I have asked my colleague [REDACTED] to contact you next week so that she can work with you to process them (as they are being paid for out of a separate budget it will require a small amount of administration to get them processed).

I hope you have a lovely bank holiday weekend.

Kind regards,

Dear [REDACTED]

Please can we do 2.30 tomorrow, as I would like to take Mr Healey's claims to our contingency panel on Thursday - so need to talk to him and agree this approach before then.

Could you give me the best number for me to call Mr Healey on?

Kind regards,

Dear Mr Healey,

Please accept my apologies for the delay in my contacting you. I have been reviewing the details of your case and consulting with colleagues. Are you free for a call tomorrow in order to discuss the matter and agree a way forward?
