Regarding

 Mike Hill - Winding Up

Dear Mr Hill and

Th [REDACTED] has advised that legal fee costs would be claimable if they are directly related to the Mr Hill's role as an employer – in other words, because the case has arisen in the context of the employment relationship with the former staff member. As Mr Hill has confirmed that the solicitor invoices are in relation to costs incurred from representing and advocating on his behalf then then these can be claimed for. The expense can be claimed from either Staffing or Office costs. You can use the Bought-in Services expense type and subcategory Professional & consultancy.

Please note that any legal costs associated with the tribunal itself will be covered by the EPL insurance policy which is provided by the House. Please also be reminded that any such claim will be made public in like with our normal publication procedures and it is worth considering any implications this may have prior to submitting the claim.

[REDACTED] would also be able to claim for costs pertaining to her London to attend the tribunal, but, it would be helpful to first confirm the purpose of [REDACTED] attending.

Furthermore, you can also use your Payment Card and direct payments facility until 16 April. After that, your Payment Card and access to direct payments will be suspended. After 16 April, please submit reimbursement claims for any further costs incurred.
