

Chart of States with and without State Tax Tribunals (as of 6/2/20)

Prepared by: AICPA State and Local Tax Technical Resource Panel

Background on the Chart

This chart was prepared by the AICPA State and Local Tax Technical Resource Panel and is current as of 6/2/20. This is an evolving issue, and the particular rules concerning state tax tribunals differ in each state, so taxpayers and practitioners should do their own independent research to verify the current rules in each state.

The first 2 columns of the chart below is a list of states that do and do not have a tax adjudication forum that is independent (to some extent) from the DOR and handles appeals of a variety of state taxes, not just property taxes. “No” means that the state does not have an independent forum, “EB” that the independent forum is located in the executive branch, and “JB” that the forum is a regular court whose jurisdiction is limited to tax cases.

The 3rd column of the chart “Allows CPAs authorized to practice in the state” refers to mobility for accountants - including out of state CPAs being allowed to represent clients without needing to obtain permission, so a response of Yes means it is automatic, or No means permission is required or it is not allowed.

Background on State Tax Tribunals

A state tax tribunal is a means to resolve state tax appeal controversies prior to litigation, and in a forum outside the dominion and control of the state tax authority.

There are several hallmarks of an independent state tax tribunal, including the below 4 most important. The ABA Model Act contains several others, so we suggest that the ABA Model Act (modified to include CPA mobility – accountants authorized to practice in the state) be considered when a state is interested in establishing a state tax tribunal.

1. The judges are required to possess a ‘substantial knowledge’ of their state’s tax laws, and know how to conduct hearings and make a record for appeal purposes.
2. The tax tribunal must be independent of the state DOR, both in terms of physical location and operating as a separate state agency with its own budget.

3. The tribunal publishes its decisions.
4. Accountants authorized to practice in the state as well as attorneys can represent taxpayers in the tribunal.

We are considering a coding system - If a tribunal in a state passes all four conditions, we have coded it green, if only 2-3 conditions are met, we have coded it yellow, and if 1 condition or none of the conditions are met, we have coded it red.

SUMMARY of the Chart

No Tribunal – 16 states do not have tribunals (No) – AR, CA, CO, FL, ME, NE, NV, ND, OK, RI, SD, TN, TX, UT, VT, VA

Tax Tribunal - 35 states (including DC) have some form of tax tribunal/court (29 executive branch (EB) + 6 judicial branch (JB) = 35) (Yes) -

29 EB – AK, AL, DE, DC, GA, ID, IL, IA, KS, KY, LA, MD, MA, MI, MN, MS, MO, MT, NH, NM NY, NC, OH, PA, SC, WA, WV, WI, WY

6 JB – AZ, CT, HI, IN, NJ, OR

CPA Representation

- Five states, AL, DC, MS, NM, and WY allow CPAs (in state and out of state) full rights to represent taxpayers in all tax matters before an independent tax forum with no additional steps required.
- There are 12 states that allow CPAs (but with limitations or additional steps required) to represent taxpayers in some fashion in a truly independent tax forum (non-court) in some tax matters.
- These 16 states include (with limitations unless in italics): AL, AK, AZ, DE, DC, GA, IA, MI, MS, NM, NY, PA, SC, WA, WV, and WY. Some of the limitations include: AK (CPAs need to submit power of attorney), AZ (limited cases), DE (out of state CPAs need permission) (though note that Tax Appeals Board and Division of Revenue are both located in Department of Finance), DC, GA (enacted 4/19/12 – CPAs can represent only in small claims division), IA (CPAs authorized to practice in the state), LA (with some limitations on CPAs), MI (CPAs can represent in the tax tribunal, not in the Court of Claims), MS, NY (NY CPAs allowed, out of state CPAs and out of state attorneys need special permission), SC (tax matters, no unauthorized practice of law), TX, WA (out of state CPAs need permission), PA and WV (in-state and out of state CPAs, but there are strong limitations (i.e., questioning a witness) against unauthorized practice of law) and WY.

- Below is a breakdown of the 35 states (including DC) with tribunals noting CPA representation rights (no highlight – no CPA representation, blue highlight – limits on CPA representation, purple highlight allow CPA representation)
 - 29 EB – AK, AL, DE, DC, GA, ID, IL, IA, KS, KY, LA, MD, MA, MI, MN, MS, MO, MT, NH, NM, NY, NC, OH, PA, SC, WA, WV, WI, WY
 - 6 JB – AZ, CT, HI, IN, NJ, OR
- The 34 following states that either do NOT have a tribunal (16) or do NOT allow CPA representation in their tribunal (13+5 =18) are:
 - 16 states do not have tribunals (No) – AR, CA, CO, FL, ME, NE, NV, ND, OK, RI, SD, TN, TX, UT, VT, VA
 - 13 states do not allow CPA representation (of the 29) EB tribunals - ID, IL, KS, KY, LA, MD, MA, MN, MO, MT, NH, NC, OH
 - 5 (of the 6) states with JB tribunals do not allow CPA representation - CT, HI, IN, NJ, OR
- Note that our analysis on CPA representation at a state tax tribunal is based on our research of state legislation and state published guidance and does not include possible restrictions from professional regulatory guidelines, such as the International Federation of Accountants (IFAC), AICPA, and SEC, which might limit the ability of CPAs to represent clients before certain bodies under various circumstances. Other regulatory rules (e.g., AICPA, IFAC, SEC) might supersede/limit the application of the state laws. For example, while the state laws may be the only laws to consider when providing services to a non-restricted (i.e., no-assurance) client, AICPA, IFAC and SEC independence rules must be considered when working with restricted clients. In general, CPAs must apply the most restrictive independence rules that apply to them in the context of a service offering in determining whether they can perform a certain service.
- We also note that according to the AICPA Basis for Conclusion regarding independence and non-attest services, authorized representation of a client in administrative proceedings before a taxing authority would not impair a member's independence provided the member obtains client agreement prior to committing the client to a specific resolution with the taxing authority. However, representing a client in a court to resolve a tax dispute would impair a member's independence. To assist members in determining what other forums may be equivalent to a court, the following criteria would be indicative that the forum is equivalent to a court.
 - The forum is presided over by a trier of fact who is independent of the taxing authority and is empowered to render a determination that is binding (absent appeal);
 - The forum conducts formal proceedings governed by a set of procedural rules dealing with matters such as evidence and testimony;
 - The forum is the last opportunity for the parties to present new factual evidence, so that any appeal of the forum's decisions would only involve a review of the forum's records, including its factual or legal findings, and not an evidentiary hearing.

Recent Legislative History

2024 Proposed legislation – relating to state tax tribunals

GA – (HR 598) was sent to Governor Brian Kemp (R) on April 1. The resolution proposes a Constitutional amendment (subject to voter approval) to create the Georgia Tax Court. Georgia currently adjudicates tax cases through the Georgia Tax Tribunal, an autonomous division within the Office of State Administrative Hearings. (H.B. 1267) was sent to Governor Brian Kemp (R) on April 3. The bill contains provisions governing the Georgia Tax Court.

MI – (H.B. 5645) was introduced and referred to the House Tax Policy Committee on April 23. Very broadly, the bill would amend The Tax Tribunal Act to allow the Tribunal to grant a protective order to keep certain information (including trade secrets) confidential and out of the public domain.

2021 Proposed legislation – relating to state tax tribunals

AR - H.B. 1468, introduced February 10 and sponsored by Rep. Joe Jett (R-56) and others, would establish the Tax Appeals Commission as an independent tax tribunal within the executive branch of the government to resolve disputes between the Department of Finance and Administration and taxpayers.

2020 Proposed legislation – relating to state tax tribunals

MI – (H.B. 5766) sent to the Governor on June 2, 2020, would amend the Tax Tribunal Act to extend the filing deadline for certain property tax appeals.

2019 Enacted legislation – relating to state tax tribunals

LA – (H.B. 583) Governor signed into law on June 18, 2019. Among its provisions, it expands the jurisdiction of the Board of Tax Appeals (BTA) to generally permit consideration of constitutional arguments and would provide that the BTA “shall have jurisdiction over all matters related to state and local taxes or fees or other claims against the state as provided by law,” and that the Legislature may extend its jurisdiction to “matters concerning the constitutionality of taxes or fees” by a two-thirds vote of each chamber. The measure will be effective upon voter approval of amendments to the state constitution included in H.B. 428.

NM – (S.B. 129) Governor signed into law on April 2, 2019. Among its provisions, it amends portions of the Taxation and Revenue Department's administrative provisions and modifies the State's protest procedures to establish an informal conference process for assessment appeals available at the taxpayer's request prior to a formal hearing; and establishes appeals procedures for the administrative hearing office to follow during the formal appeals process.

2019 Proposed Legislation – relating to state tax tribunals

AR – (S.B. 560), a bill was filed on March 13, 2019, and passed the Senate on March 25, 2019, that would establish a “Tax Appeals Commission” in the executive branch of the government separate from the Department of Finance and Administration to adjudicate issues arising from disputes between the Department and taxpayers. The intent of the bill is to “increase public confidence in the fairness of the state tax system by establishing an independent tax appeals commission within the executive branch of state government to ensure due process in the resolution of tax disputes between taxpayers and the Department of Finance and Administration.”

HI - (H.B. 1043) passed the House on March 5, 2019, was amended and advanced by the Senate Judiciary Committee on March 22, 2019, and passed the Senate on April 4. Among its provisions, it would replace the State’s current tax boards of review with a single tax appeal review panel situated within but independent from the Department of Taxation.

2018 Enacted legislation – relating to state tax tribunals

AZ – (SB 1385), which was signed into law on April 12, 2018, involves changes to the tax appeals, the ability to bypass part or all of the administrative appeals process in certain tax disputes, and updates authorized disclosure of confidential information. It would, among its provisions, permit taxpayers, following a tax refund denial or deficiency assessment, to bring an appeal of the Department of Revenue’s determination directly to the Board of Tax Appeals or in the state tax court. The measure would have retroactive effect to January 1, 2017.

MI – (H.B. 4412) was signed into law on December 20, 2018. It is a measure making administrative amendments to the Michigan Tax Tribunal including imposing training requirements for members of the Tribunal and would permit, subject to certain limitations, members of the Tribunal to pursue employment and business interests outside of board membership.

2018 Proposed legislation – relating to state tax tribunals -

MT – (S.B. 137) - The Montana Department of Revenue has scheduled a March 8 hearing on proposed regulations it has issued in response to legislation (S.B. 137) of 2017, which amended the state’s administrative dispute processes, permitting taxpayers to bypass the Department of Revenue’s Office of Dispute Resolution and requiring both parties to administrative appeals to use “informal consultation or communication” to pursue discovery rather than formal discovery procedures. Comments on the proposal may be submitted to the Department until March 16, 2018.

WA – (H.B. 2777), which the House on March 6 concurred in Senate amendments to H.B. 2777 and sent the bill to Governor Jay Inslee (D). The bill which passed the Senate on March 2 and the Washington House of Representatives on Feb. 13, 2018, would make various amendments to the Board of Tax Appeals (BTA), including:

- Require at least two members of the BTA be attorneys licensed in Washington with state tax expertise;
- Require BTA members to undergo judicial training;
- Authorize the BTA to require parties to attend mandatory settlement conferences;
- Permit the BTA to stay collections pending appeal;
- Allow the BTA to award attorney’s fees for certain taxpayers;
- Require the BTA to publish all new orders and decisions of precedential value; and
- Amend the process for taxpayers to directly appeal BTA decisions to the Court of Appeals.

2017 Enacted legislation – relating to state tax tribunals –

MT - (S.B. 137) of 2017, which amended the state’s administrative dispute processes, permitting taxpayers to bypass the Department of Revenue’s Office of Dispute Resolution and requiring both parties to administrative appeals to use “informal consultation or communication” to pursue discovery rather than formal discovery procedures.

2017 Proposed legislation – relating to state tax tribunals –

WA – (S. 5866) – creates a tax court for the state of Washington. CPAs licensed in the state of Washington and any person designated with the approval of the Commissioner would be able to represent a taxpayer.

2016 Proposed legislation – relating to state tax tribunals -

IL – (S. 2309) – provides that the Department of Revenue may determine that a person’s allegations of a false claim, statement, or record are best handled within the course of an audit. If the Department of Revenue exercises its audit functions and the audit results in a contested tax assessment, the person audited shall retain all of his or her legal rights to resolve the matter in any forum where jurisdiction is proper, including an administrative hearing before the Department of Revenue, the Independent Tax Tribunal, Circuit court under the State, or any other judicial proceeding. Under no circumstances may a person, other than the person audited and his or her attorney, have any right to participate in those proceedings, participate in settlement negotiations, challenge the validity of any settlement between the Department and any person, or review any materials subject to the confidentiality provisions of the underlying tax act.

MO – (H.B. 1860) – allows a tax preparer, enrolled agent, or certified public accountant to represent a client before the Administrative Hearing Commission in matters relating to an assessment or reassessment of tax.

WA – (regulations – not legislation) - The Washington Department of Revenue has issued proposed amendments to its internal administrative review regulations. The amendments are intended to clarify that administrative review is an informal review by the Department itself, and not an independent review such as that conducted by the state’s Board of Tax Appeals.

Also, the amendments would rename the administrative review provisions from “appeals” to “informal administrative reviews” and set forth the process and procedures for such informal administrative reviews. The general processes for filing a petition and pursuing an informal administrative review remain largely the same under the amended rule, although the Department has added some new provisions, including an outline of the roles and responsibilities of tax review officers and a requirement that taxpayer representatives have a Confidential Tax Information Authorization (CTIA) on file. Comments are due to the Department by January 7, 2016, and a hearing on the proposal is scheduled for January 7, 2016 at 10:00 a.m.

2015 Enacted legislation – relating to state tax tribunals –

NM – (SB. 356) – enacted the Administrative Hearings Office Act, providing for independent hearing officers and creates a hearing office separate from the Taxation and Revenue Department for administrative hearings. CPAs may represent taxpayers. “A taxpayer may appear at the hearing on the taxpayer's own behalf or may be represented by a bona fide employee, an attorney, a certified public accountant or, with respect only to tax imposed pursuant to the Income Tax Act, a person who is an enrolled agent for federal income tax purposes.” NMSCPA supported the bill. It was signed into law on April 7, 2015.

2015 Proposed legislation – relating to state tax tribunals -

IA – (HSB 73) – would repeal the state board of tax review and provide for appeals to go to the Director of Revenue.

KY – (HB 361) - a taxpayer bill of rights bill, taxpayer representative includes any accountant, attorney, tax practitioner, or other person designated in writing by a taxpayer to represent that taxpayer before the department in any matter relating to taxes administered by the department. Kentucky legislature has adjourned without considering the bill.

MI – (S. 537) – would make changes to the tribunal, including a CPA on the tribunal.

MO – (H 838) – would allow a tax preparer, enrolled agent, or certified public accountant to represent a client before the Administrative hearing commission in matters relating to an assessment or reassessment of taxes.

MT - S.B. 413 – would create a Small Claims Division within the State Tax Appeal Board – CPAs could represent if issue less than $5,000.

NM – (H. 292 and SB. 356) – would enact the Administrative Hearings Office Act, providing for independent hearing officers and creates a hearing office separate from the Taxation and Revenue Department for administrative hearings. CPAs may represent taxpayers. “A taxpayer may appear at the hearing on the taxpayer’s own behalf or may be represented by a bona fide employee, an attorney, a certified public accountant or, with respect only to tax imposed pursuant to the Income Tax Act, a person who is an enrolled agent for federal income tax purposes.” NMSCPA supports the bill.

WA – (SB 5449) – establishes a new tax appeal division in the court of appeals to resolve tax disputes to create an independent tax appeal forum within the judicial branch of government and provides for informal appeals. A new substitute to WA SB 5449 would establish an Appeal Division, which will replace the Board of Tax Appeals effective January 1, 2016, and will be housed in the Court of Appeals. Reading the bill in its current form, it appears that CPAs will be unable to practice before the forum. Restrictions will be imposed on CPAs and result in them losing access to an existing appeals forum.

2014 Enacted Legislation – 1 bill in 1 state enacted legislation relating to state tax tribunals –

AL (H105 Sub.) – effective 10/1/14, created an independent tax tribunal. Alabama Tax Tribunal (EB) – CPAs (in state and out of state) can represent taxpayers if have written authority or power of attorney. Enacted 3/4/14.

2014 Proposed Legislation – in addition to the above enacted legislation, 9 bills in 6 states proposed legislation relating to state tax tribunals –

KS (H2413) – makes administrative changes to the already existing tribunal – would rename the state court of tax appeals to the state board of tax appeals and deals with removal of members.

MI (S. 1039) - diminishes the role of the profession on Michigan’s Tax Tribunal. The bill moves the tribunal from the Department of Treasury to the Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs. It also revises the membership of the tribunal by deleting a requirement that one seat be held by a CPA and establishes the requirement that all members of the tribunal be attorneys.

MO (H2250) - allows a tax preparer, enrolled agent, or certified public accountant to represent his or her client before the Administrative Hearing Commission in matters relating to an assessment or reassessment of tax.

OK (S392) – would create a State Office of Administrative Tax Hearings (EB), an independent office of administrative tax hearings within the executive branch of government. May be represented by an accountant licensed in the state. May allow an accountant authorized to practice or licensed in any other jurisdiction of the US to appear and represent a taxpayer for a particular matter.

“Appearances in proceedings conducted by the State Office of Administrative Tax Hearings may be by the taxpayer, by an attorney admitted to practice in this state, including an attorney who is a partner or member of, or is employed by, an accounting or other professional services firm, by an accountant licensed in this state, or by an enrolled agent authorized to practice before the Internal Revenue Service. The State Office of Administrative Tax Hearings may allow any attorney or accountant authorized to practice or licensed in any other jurisdiction of the United States to appear and represent a taxpayer in proceedings before the State Office of Administrative Tax Hearings for a particular matter. In addition, the State Office of Administrative Tax Hearings may promulgate rules permitting a taxpayer to be represented by an officer, employee, partner, or member.”

TN (H961, S734) – would create the Tennessee Administrative Tax Tribunal - establishing an independent tax tribunal within the executive branch of government (EB). May be represented by an accountant licensed in the state. May allow an accountant authorized to practice or licensed in any other jurisdiction of the US to appear and represent a taxpayer for a particular matter.

“SECTION 18. (a) Appearances in proceedings conducted by the tax tribunal may be by the taxpayer, by an attorney admitted to practice in this state, including an attorney who is a partner or member of, or is employed by, an accounting or other professional services firm, by an accountant licensed in this state, or by an enrolled agent authorized to practice before the internal revenue service. The tax tribunal may allow any attorney or accountant authorized to practice or licensed in any other jurisdiction of the United States to appear and represent a taxpayer in proceedings before the tax tribunal for a particular matter. In addition, the tax tribunal may promulgate rules and regulations permitting a taxpayer to be represented by an officer, employee, partner, or member.”

WA (SB 6175, SB 6176, H 2635) – would create a new state tax tribunal (EB) as an agency of state government (and eliminate the BOTA). Accountants licensed in the state and accountants authorized to practice and licensed in another state may appear before the tribunal. Introduced 1/16/14. “NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. (1) Appearances in proceedings conducted by the tax tribunal may be by the taxpayer, by an attorney admitted to practice in this state (including an attorney who is a partner or member of, or is employed by, an accounting or other professional services firm), by an accountant licensed in this state, or by an enrolled agent authorized to represent taxpayers before the federal internal revenue service. The tax tribunal may allow any attorney or accountant authorized to practice or licensed in any other jurisdiction of the United States to appear and represent a taxpayer in proceedings before the tax tribunal for a particular matter. In addition, the tax tribunal may promulgate rules and regulations permitting a taxpayer to be represented by an officer, employee, partner, or member.”

2013 Enacted Legislation –

PA (HB 465) - Act of Jul. 9, 2013, P.L. 270, No. 52 – would reconstitute the Board of Finance and Revenue. CPAs (in and out of state) would be allowed to represent taxpayers, but limited to no unauthorized practice of law. This was enacted July 9, 2013, and the new independent board became effective April 1, 2014.

2013 Proposed Legislation - 11 bills in 8 states had proposed legislation relating to state tax tribunals –

AL (H264, S223) – would create independent tax tribunal Alabama Tax Appeals Commission (EB) – CPAs (in state and out of state) could represent taxpayers if have written authority or power of attorney. Alabama’s legislative session ended without passing this legislation.

CO (HOUSE BILL 13-1140) – would create the Colorado independent tax appeal court - (JB), CPAs (in state can represent taxpayers (and out of state on particular matters)). Colorado’s legislative session ended without passing this legislation.

IA (HB 1446) – provides for a study of the effectiveness of the state’s current administrative processes for tax matters and the feasibility of consolidating these processes under a tax appeals court. (HSB 228) – would require a study by Jan. 8, 2014 of the current administrative appeals processes for tax matters and make recommendations for changes if necessary and study the possibility of creating a new consolidated tax appeal board.

KA – (HB 2413) – would change court to board – CPAs would not be allowed to represent to the board.

LA – (HB 585, HB 515) – HB 585 would create a Tax Court (JB), CPAs (in and out of state) would be allowed to represent taxpayers if the CPA passes a test. HB 515 does not have language referencing the ability of CPAs to represent their clients.

OK (SB 392) – would create the State Office of Administrative Tax Hearings (EB), CPAs (in and out of state) would be allowed to represent taxpayers.

PA (HB 465) - Act of Jul. 9, 2013, P.L. 270, No. 52 – would reconstitute the Board of Finance and Revenue. CPAs (in and out of state) would be allowed to represent taxpayers, but limited to no unauthorized practice of law. This was enacted July 9, 2013, and the new independent board became effective April 1, 2014.

TN (SB0734, H961) – would create an independent tax tribunal within the executive branch (EB), CPAs (in state can represent taxpayers (and out of state on particular matters)).

TX (HB 2488) – would create a tax tribunal (EB) – with authorized representatives including an accountant licensed in this State or any other jurisdiction of the United States.
