RE: Charitable/Exempt Organizations Tax Reform Working Group

Dear Messrs. Reichert and Lewis:

The AICPA strongly supports the leadership taken by the House Committee on Ways & Means in studying a variety of topical areas as part of comprehensive tax reform. The proliferation of new income tax provisions since the 1986 tax reform effort has led to complex compliance hurdles for taxpayers, administrative complexity and enforcement challenges for the Internal Revenue Service. According to the National Taxpayer Advocate's 2012 Annual Report to Congress, "individuals and businesses spend about 6.1 billion hours a year complying with the filing requirements of the Internal Revenue Code."¹ It also noted "the costs of complying with the individual and corporate income tax requirements for 2010 amounted to $168 billion – or a staggering 15 percent of aggregate income tax receipts."² We consistently have supported tax reform simplification efforts because we are convinced such actions will significantly reduce taxpayers' compliance costs, encourage voluntary compliance through an understanding of the rules, and facilitate enforcement actions.

We are available to assist you in this process, and will be providing comments to several of the working groups that have been established. This letter specifically provides comments on various charitable and exempt organizations tax provisions which should be examined as part of tax reform. Specifically, we suggest Congress consider how to improve the administration of the Internal Revenue Code by addressing the following areas: (1) standardization of allowable mileage rates for tax purposes; (2) exemption from the filing requirement of section 6034(a) trusts with charitable deductions only from flow-through entities; (3) allowance of a single 6-month automatic extension for the entire Form 990 series and other information, excise, and income tax returns of exempt organizations; (4) reinstatement and permanency of the fair market value exception under section 512(b)(13) and removal of the binding contract requirement; and (5) expansion of an exception from section 509(f)(2), which prohibits an organization from qualifying for section 509(a)(3) status if it accepted certain gifts, to be consistent with the change made to section 4958(c)(3)(C).

A brief summary of our analyses and recommendations on the topics listed above is enclosed for your consideration. We also suggest that you review the AICPA's Tax Policy Concept Statement #1: Guiding Principles for Good Tax Policy to assist you in identifying problems in the Code as well as analyzing any new proposals against the principles of good tax policy. A copy of that concept statement is also enclosed.

The AICPA is the world's largest member association representing the accounting profession with nearly 386,000 members in 128 countries and a 125-year heritage of serving the public interest. Our members advise clients on federal, state and international tax matters and prepare income and other tax returns for millions of Americans. Our members provide services to individuals, not-for-profit organizations, small and medium-sized businesses, as well as America's largest businesses.
