Executive Summary

Brooklyn Market

Highlighted below are several key trends observed during the fourth quarter.

Inventory

Overall inventory (Condo + Co-op + Single Family) in prime Brooklyn<sup>1</sup>, as defined on Page 1 Map, experienced a 6% Y-o-Y increase to 1,319 units, mainly attributable to increases in Co-ops (+25% Y-o-Y to 394 units) and Condos (+6% Y-o-Y to 784 units), offset by a decrease in Single Family homes (-25% Y-o-Y to 141 units). It is notable that active units in the $2M-$3M price segments saw the largest Y-o-Y increase at 14%, primarily driven by Condos in this category. New development projects recently launching sales such as 11 Hoyt, 67 Livingston, 147 Hope and 78 Amity, contributed to the rise of $2M-$3M inventory level. The months of supply<sup>2</sup> for this price segment increased from 5.4 months in Q4 2018 to 6.5 months this quarter, implying a transition from under-supplied territory to equilibrium. In contrast, Single Family homes exhibited Y-o-Y decreases in all price segments in Q4 2018.

Median asking price decreased 7% Y-o-Y to $900K in Q4 2018. However, both Co-op and Single Family median asking prices achieved the highest levels on record, increasing 3% Y-o-Y to $499K and 12% Y-o-Y to $2.0M in Q4 2018, respectively. Median days-on-market decreased from 131 days in Q4 2017 to 97 days this quarter, led by double-digit decreases across all price segments.

Among the 12 submarkets analyzed, Downtown Brooklyn/Fort Greene (+74% Y-o-Y to 132 units), Brooklyn Heights/Columbia Street Waterfront (+37% Y-o-Y to 92 units) and Bushwick/Bedford-Stuyvesant/Crown Heights (+34% Y-o-Y to 210 units) exhibited the top-3 largest Y-o-Y increases in the number of active units at the end of Q4 2018. The significant upswing in Downtown Brooklyn/Fort Greene inventory was partly due to new developments such as 11 Hoyt, 10 Nevins and Brooklyn Point at 138 Willoughby Street (Condo), which pushed the median asking price up by 13% Y-o-Y in the neighborhood. Twelve active condos at Quay Tower at 50 Bridge Park Drive accounted for the increase in the number of available units in Brooklyn Heights/Columbia Street Waterfront. Also noteworthy were seven new development buildings that recently came online in Bushwick/Bedford-Stuyvesant/Crown Heights, each with more than five active units, vs. two new development projects in Q4 2017.

<sup>2</sup> Months of Supply represents the number of active units divided by the number of contracts signed during the trailing 12 months, excluding shadow inventory. 6-9 months of supply indicates equilibrium, under 6 months indicates an under-supplied market, and over 9 months indicates an over-supplied market.

Executive Summary

Brooklyn Market

Highlighted below are several key trends observed during the fourth quarter.

Contracts Signed

There were 872 contracts signed in Brooklyn this quarter compared to 1,066 units in Q4 2017, representing an 18% Y-o-Y decrease. The decline stemmed from double-digit decreases across all three property types. Condo, Co-op and Single Family contracts declined by 16% Y-o-Y to 500 units, 16% Y-o-Y to 311 units and 41% Y-o-Y to 61 units, respectively. This downward trend could be interpreted as buyers exhibiting more caution while considering a volatile stock market, interest rate uncertainty, and consequently a softening real estate market. Most price segments experienced decreases, except for the $1M-$2M category, which increased 2% Y-o-Y to 283 contracts signed in Q4 2018. Resale condos and eight reported contracts at Brooklyn Point at 138 Willoughby Street were mainly responsible for this slight increase.

Overall Brooklyn median contract price<sup>1</sup> increased 1% Y-o-Y to $885K in Q4 2018, primarily driven by Co-ops (+11% Y-o-Y to $649K) and Condos (+5% Y-o-Y to $995K), offset by Single Family home (-11% Y-o-Y to $1.6M). Co-op median contract price surpassed $600K for the first time on record, partly due to the fact that Brooklyn Point is included in the Co-op summary as it is a land-lease project. Overall median days-on-market decreased from 63 days to 59 days this quarter.

Among the 12 submarkets analyzed, only Cobble Hill/Carroll Gardens/Boerum Hill and Clinton Hill experienced increases in the number of total contracts signed, up 19% and 10% Y-o-Y, respectively. Cobble Hill/Carroll Garden/Boerum Hill also saw the largest Y-o-Y increase in median contract price at 24%, mainly due to 13 contracts signed at 78 Amity, a new development project. Brooklyn Heights/Columbia Street Waterfront exhibited the largest Y-o-Y decline in the number of contracts signed at 45% partly as several new developments reported contracts in Q4 2017 but not in Q4 2018, such as Standish at 171 Columbia Heights, One Brooklyn Bridge Park at 360 Furman Street and Pierhouse at Brooklyn Bridge Park at 90 & 130 Furman Street.

Executive Summary

Brooklyn Market

Highlighted below are several key trends observed during the fourth quarter.

Closings

There were 973 total closings in Brooklyn this quarter, down 24% Y-o-Y compared to 4Q 2017, as all three property types went through double-digit Y-o-Y decreases. Condo closings decreased 28% Y-o-Y to 471 units, partially attributable to previous clustered closings in Q4 2017 at new development buildings such as 550 Vanderbilt (32 units), 184 Kent (25 units) and 525 Myrtle (19 units). The number of closings for Condos reached the lowest level since Q1 2016. Co-op closings decreased 15% Y-o-Y to 356 units and Single Family closings decreased 27% Y-o-Y to 146 units. All price segments also experienced double-digit Y-o-Y decreases, ranging from -13% ($1M-$2M) to -46% ($2M-$3M). Median days-on-market increased from 56 days in Q4 2017 to 65 days this quarter.

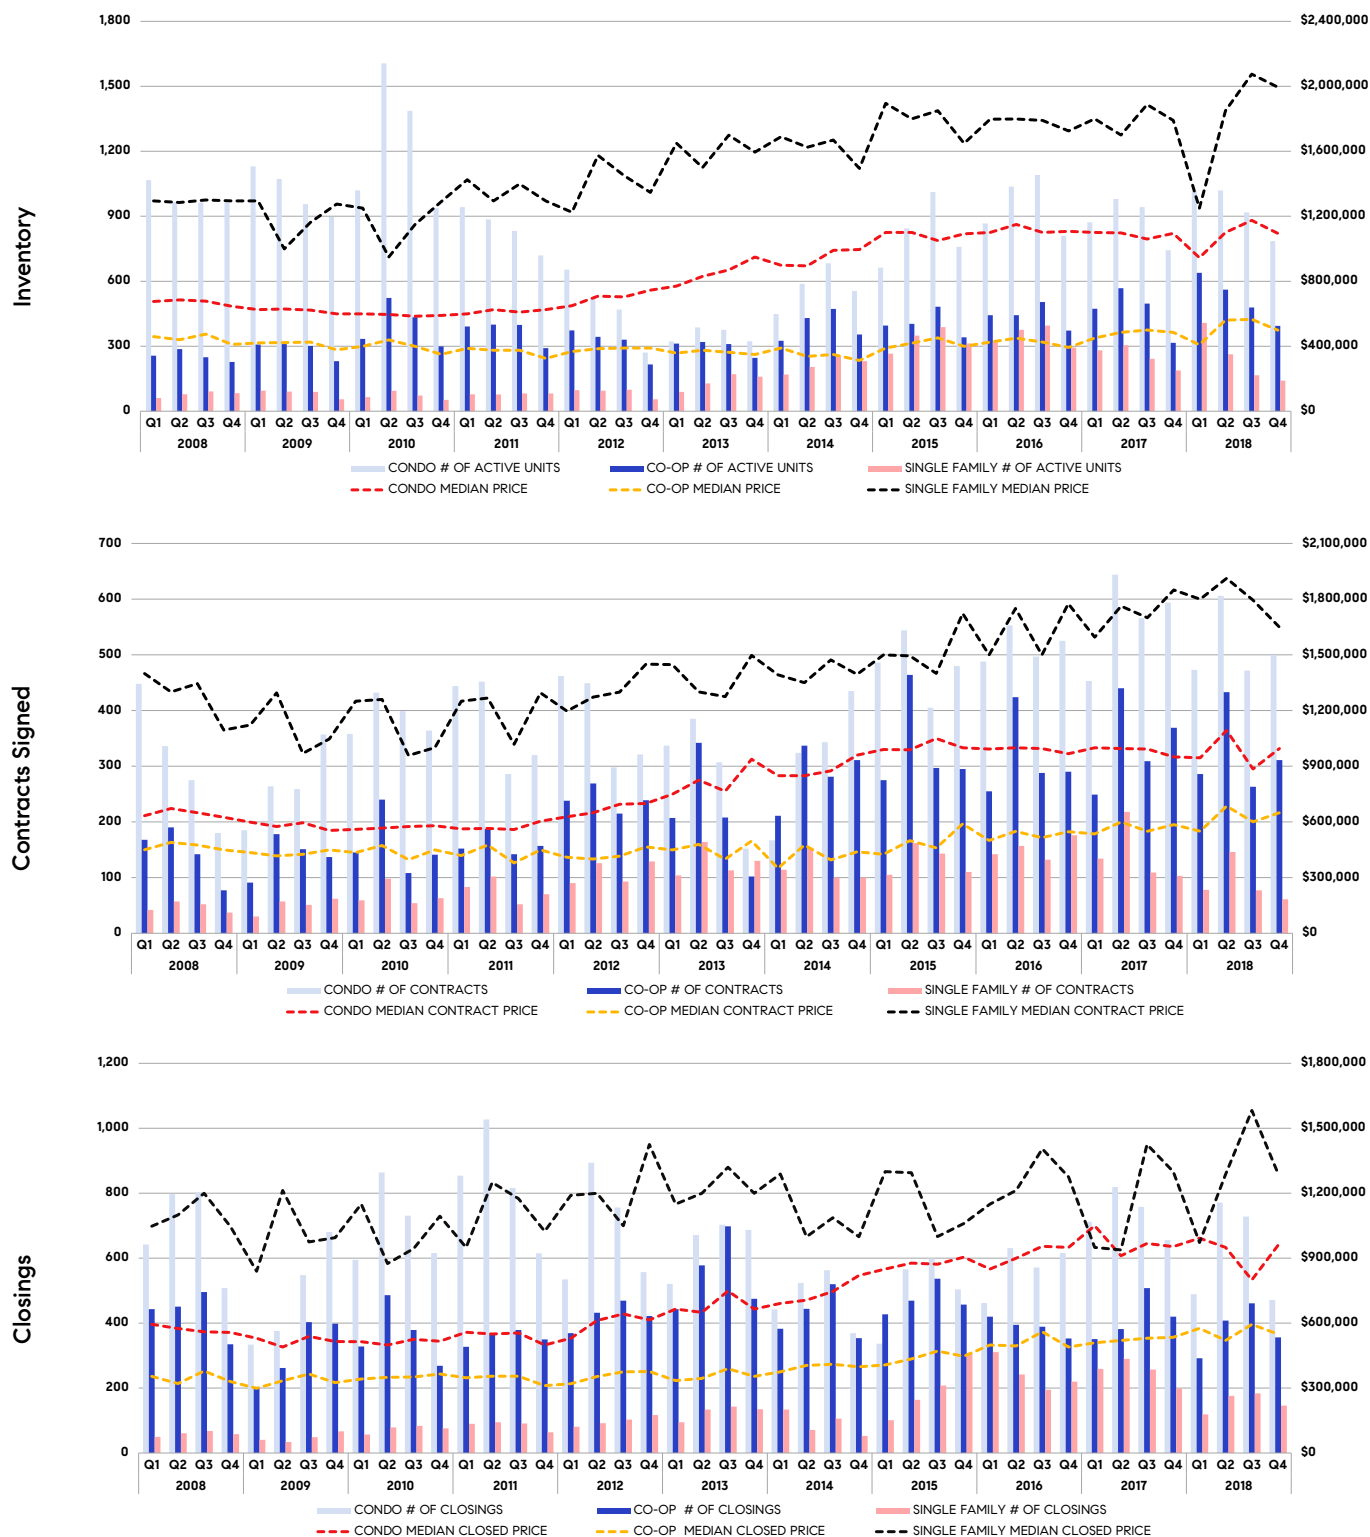

Brooklyn median sales price decreased 1% Y-o-Y to $850K in Q4 2018, however Condo and Co-op median closing prices recorded the highest fourth quarter median sale prices in the past 10 years at $960K and $550K, respectively. Compared to -5% median negotiability<sup>1</sup> in Manhattan this quarter, Brooklyn's healthier -2% median negotiability can be partially explained by the lower absolute price points and an increasing presence of reasonably priced boutique new developments in emerging areas.

Among the 12 submarkets analyzed, Brooklyn Heights/Columbia Street Waterfront underwent the smallest Y-o-Y decline at 5% this quarter as several new development projects continued to deliver units in the fourth quarter. In terms of closing price, Gowanus/Greenwood Heights/Sunset Park/Bay Ridge/Red Hook posted the largest Y-o-Y increase by 33% as new projects like Stanton On 6th at 695 6th Avenue started to close in Q4 2018 and resale condos achieved higher prices compared to the same quarter last year. The most expensive neighborhood in Brooklyn was DUMBO, which saw a median absolute sale price of $1.4M this quarter, a 19% Y-o-Y decrease compared to Q4 2017.

ACTIVE MONTHS OF SUPPLY	4Q2018	4Q2017
Overall	5.1	4.6

Months of supply represents the number of months it would take to absorb all active inventory based on the trailing 12 months average of contract activity. Typically 6 to 9 months of supply indicates market equilibrium. Please note this analysis does not include 'shadow inventory' of unsold, unlisted new development inventory.

ACTIVE MONTHS OF SUPPLY	4Q2018	4Q2017
Overall	4.5	4.2

Months of supply represents the number of months it would take to absorb all active inventory based on the trailing 12 months average of contract activity. Typically 6 to 9 months of supply indicates market equilibrium. Please note this analysis does not include 'shadow inventory' of unsold, unlisted new development inventory.

ACTIVE MONTHS OF SUPPLY	4Q2018	4Q2017
Overall	4.5	4.7

Months of supply represents the number of months it would take to absorb all active inventory based on the trailing 12 months average of contract activity. Typically 6 to 9 months of supply indicates market equilibrium. Please note this analysis does not include 'shadow inventory' of unsold, unlisted new development inventory.

ACTIVE MONTHS OF SUPPLY	4Q2018	4Q2017
Overall	3.5	3.3

Months of supply represents the number of months it would take to absorb all active inventory based on the trailing 12 months average of contract activity. Typically 6 to 9 months of supply indicates market equilibrium. Please note this analysis does not include 'shadow inventory' of unsold, unlisted new development inventory.

ACTIVE MONTHS OF SUPPLY	4Q2018	4Q2017
Overall	3.2	2.9

Months of supply represents the number of months it would take to absorb all active inventory based on the trailing 12 months average of contract activity. Typically 6 to 9 months of supply indicates market equilibrium. Please note this analysis does not include 'shadow inventory' of unsold, unlisted new development inventory.
