V-Tech joins Amazon Partner Network

Washington, DC- V-Tech Solutions, Inc., has joined the Amazon Web Services (AWS) community. As a member of the Amazon Partner Network (APN), V-Tech can now offer AWS cloud technology and services to local governments, federal agencies and private corporations. Additionally, V-Tech enhanced its partnership with AWS Training to provide advanced technological skills to unemployed, under-employed and veteran jobs seekers. V-Tech is leveraging its existing relationship with DC Department of Employment Services (DOES) to offer free cloud certification training to interested candidates.

Last month, V-Tech hosted a 3-course training class at the DC Infrastructure Academy facilitated by Amazon professionals. As a result of the class, 13 individuals are now prepared to take the AWS cloud practitioner exam. Those who become certified as an AWS cloud practitioner will have a competitive advantage in the job market with specialization in a field that is growing exponentially. Candidates are also on track for the next level of coursework to become an Amazon Certified Solutions Architect with an average starting salary of $165,000 per year. In the immediate, V-Tech seeks to employ qualified candidates who have achieved AWS training and certification through the DOES On-The-Job Training Program as they explore a new career in the next generation of cloud computing technology.
