INDIANAPOLIS, IN, February 12, 2026 — No matter the weather outside, Newfields will be in full bloom with four days of flower power. Art in Bloom presented by LINNEA is back at Newfields for its sixth spectacular year. From Thursday, March 19 through Sunday, March 22, the Indianapolis Museum of Art will be teeming with more than 50 floral installations by acclaimed designers, each inspired by work in the IMA Galleries.

“Art in Bloom represents a beautiful integration of art and nature at Newfields. For four days, guests are invited to explore the Indianapolis Museum of Art’s extraordinary collections as they inspire breathtaking floral interpretations,” said Belinda Tate, The Melvin & Bren Simon Director of the Indianapolis Museum of Art at Newfields. “A regional favorite for good reason, Art in Bloom encourages visitors to experience art from fresh perspectives and celebrates the remarkable creativity that emerges when visual artists and floral designers draw from nature's beauty and each other."

Los Angeles based floral artist Tabia Yapp is the 2026 Center Piece Designer. Yapp's signature style plays with levels, offers personality, and explores space to execute elegant, striking designs. Tabia Yapp is the owner and founding designer of Bia Blooms, a floral studio based in Los Angeles, CA. Her signature style plays with levels, offers personality, and champions color to execute elegant, artful designs. Florals designed by Bia Blooms have appeared at the ESPY's afterparty, FENTYxPUMA launch dinner, Netflix Holiday Party, Sabrina Carpenter album release, Glossier gifting, and more. Since opening the doors of her floral studio, Yapp has been featured in Better Homes & Gardens, The New York Times, Good Morning America, Goop, Hunker Home, Shondaland, and LA Times. Her piece will be inspired by Robert Indiana's LOVE sculpture.

"Newfields has a special way of making art feel alive, and Art in Bloom magnifies that through flowers, color, and shared experience. For LINNEA, supporting this is about community, creativity, and creating immersive experiences you can truly step into." said Laura Cler, LINNEA Co-Founder and CEO.

In addition to the arrangements in the IMA Galleries, guests will find intricate paper flower arrangements inspired by volumes in the Stout Reference Library at Books in Bloom. The Art in Bloom Market will host a plethora of festivities including the chance to make your own flower crown with Flower Boys, a pop-up bar, and live orchids for sale. The Museum & Garden Shop will also have colorful spring merchandise that will lift spirits long after Art in Bloom closes.

The long weekend is packed with special events, including free demonstrations, in-depth workshops, guided tours, and more. Here are just a few:

About Newfields:

Newfields offers dynamic experiences with art and nature for guests of all ages. The 152-acre cultural campus features art galleries, lush gardens, a historic home, performance spaces, a nature preserve and sculpture park. From inspiring exhibitions in the IMA Galleries, to concerts in The Tobias Theater, to a stroll through The Garden with a glass of something cold, guests are invited to interact with art and nature in exciting new ways. Newfields is home to the Indianapolis Museum of Art, among the ten largest and ten oldest general art museums in the nation; the Lilly House, a National Historic Landmark; The Garden, featuring 40 acres of contemporary and historic gardens, a working greenhouse and an orchard; and The Virginia B. Fairbanks Art & Nature Park, one of the largest art and nature parks in the country. The Newfields campus extends outside of Indianapolis with Miller House and Garden in Columbus, Ind. — one of the nation's most highly regarded examples of mid-century Modernist architecture.
