Agra, January 08, 2020: Procter & Gamble Health Limited (formerly known as Merck Limited) today announced the culmination of the 2019 edition of PANACHE - a first of its kind platform to support India's Gen X doctors in their medical education journey. PANACHE aims to assist students in honing skills for holistic patient care including medico-legal aspects, ethics, role of technology, emotional intelligence, problem-solving and leadership among others.

Speaking at the felicitation ceremony, Milind Thatte - Managing Director, Procter & Gamble Health Limited stated, "P&G Health's PANACHE was conceptualised with an aim to go beyond sharing medical expertise for any therapy area, to help equip the doctors of tomorrow with holistic skills that encompass all aspects of clinical practice. We are overwhelmed by the response it has received in its first year and are extremely proud to announce Dr. Vivek Nidhi, P. Shri Ram, Dr. Tejaswini M and Suma Damera as our winners today at the prestigious APICON 2020. I would like to thank the APICON team for giving this platform to our finalists to compete in front of senior members of the medical fraternity. I also express my gratitude to the renowned medical expert panel who helped us design PANACHE, Heads of medical colleges for their support and participation, and to all medical students who went through the PANACHE experience."

Hailing from Burdwan and an intern of Burdwan Medical College and Hospital, PANACHE 2019 Winner Dr. Vivek Nidhi commented, "I am extremely thrilled to have won! This achievement brings honour to my college and I would be delighted if it inspires students from colleges from small towns to participate in such platforms. It is indeed a thoughtful step by P&G Health to institute this program for medical students to learn crucial skills as well as medical ethics. I hope P&G Health continues this program in the years ahead to enable many more students to develop themselves for the future".

The date and venue selected for the grand finale has special significance as it marks the 75th anniversary i.e., Platinum Jubilee of APICON. Over the years, APICON has been established as the platform to showcase the latest research, developments and innovation conducted by the medical fraternity.

Congratulating the winner and reiterating the need for such a learning platform in India, Dr. P.K. Maheshwari, organizing secretary for APICON added, "Along with the right diagnosis and treatment recommendation, sound general knowledge, good communication skills and the right attitude are essential for today's doctors. While I congratulate the winners, I would also like to congratulate P&G Health for this initiative and for associating with APICON by letting us be a part of this grand event. My best wishes to the winners and to P&G Health for future editions of this program."
