01:30 pm – 02:30 pm	Digitalisation Hub (Hall 1)	Digitopia Panel I: The AI Race: What is the role of the European Power Sector? AI is reshaping the energy sector—with opportunities to change the way we forecast, optimise assets, and operate with real-time management. While Europe is not currently leading in the race for providing general-purpose AI, the question now is: where should we focus, and where are the real opportunities? This panel explores how Europe can accelerate meaningful AI adoption in the energy sector. Should EU funding prioritise general-purpose AI models, or focus on targeted, sector-specific applications? What does the industry need to scale up AI deployment in terms of technical capacity, regulatory clarity, and innovation agenda? We'll also examine the European Commission's forthcoming AI roadmap and how it can support the power sector's digital transformation while ensuring Europe's leadership in clean and smart energy. Moderator: Jessica Garcia, Policy Advisor, Eurelectric	Christiane Mann Working Group Chair, Grid Digitalisation, T&D Europe / Head of Industry Affairs, Siemens AG Dara Lynott CEO, Electricity Association of Ireland Luis Cunha Director of European Policies and Projects, E-REDES Cruz Enrique Borges Hernandez Researcher, University of Deusto
