Background

Tim Srock is the CEO of Mendix, a modern application development platform, built to promote intense collaboration between business and IT teams and dramatically accelerates application development cycles, while maintaining the highest standards of security, quality, and governance.

Tim joined Siemens in 2014 as a member of the Finance Excellence Program and has a tremendous record within Siemens. Before his current CEO role, he served as CFO for Mendix and as a member of the Mendix leadership team, helping to grow that cloud business to $150M Annual Recurring Revenue (ARR). In addition to his CFO role, Tim has been responsible for legal, compliance, facilities, and IT across Mendix.

Tim has a proven track record of delivering high-impact results and is able to balance enterprise expertise, operational excellence, and a people-based leadership style within a hyper-growth environment. Tim holds a Master of Science degree in Management from the University of Bamberg.

Prior to Siemens, Tim spent time as a semi-professional soccer player in Germany. He is an avid hiker and mountain climber and enjoys spending his free time outdoors.
