Important

Please remember to book your exam slot during the booking window. Once the booking window has closed, we are unable to book a slot or make changes on your behalf.

If you do not book a slot within the booking period, you will need to re-register for the next available trimester.

We encourage you to book your slot as early as possible and not wait until the closing date. If the booking deadline falls on a Saturday or Sunday, please note that our phone lines are closed at weekends and support will not be available on those days.

Please note: You do not need to book an exam slot for QFA Financial Planning examinations. As this is a written exam, there is only one scheduled exam date per trimester. Please refer to the Exam Timetable on the website for the exam date.
