FAQs

Quick-guide-to-Proctorio

What do I do if the internet drops?

If your internet connection drops during your examination, don't panic – as advised save your MS Word Exam Answer Book locally (desktop) and re-enter IOB Learn to upload continue or to upload your submission once you are within the exam timeframe. If you are unable to reconnect to your online exam session, please email support@proctorio.com or contact IOB via the chat, phone 01 611 6500 or email info@iob.ie (note in subject line Proctorio)

Is it a problem if my internet connection occasionally fails while taking an exam through online proctoring?

It is important to ensure a stable internet connection. If you experience technical problems despite having a stable internet connection, you can report these on the Proctorio chat.

If it is an option to use a personal hotspot on your phone, please do so. You can let IOB know if you need to do this.

How will IOB contact me if there are any announcements regarding the exam paper?

In the unlikely event there is an update or change to the exam paper. IOB will inform you through a webpage (link will be provided to you on the day of the exam). You will need to refresh the page during the exam to check for updates.

How will I know that my exam has been submitted correctly?

Once you select submit and finish, your exam has been submitted. Proctorio will stop when your exam has been submitted. IOB will contact you if there is an issue with your submission. Once a student uploads their exam that submission is the only submission considered for grading.

Submissions outside of the exam time will not be accepted.
