

About Michelle Wu

Michelle Wu is a mom, a daughter of immigrants, and a fierce believer that we can solve our deepest challenges through building community. As a Boston City Councilor, Michelle has worked in coalition to deliver bold, systemic change and redefine what is possible through activist city leadership across our neighborhoods.

Position: Graphic Design and Video Editing Intern

Michelle Wu's campaign is seeking a paid graphic design and video editing intern to help us create engaging content for multiple communication and social media channels. Interns will gain graphic design skills and campaign experience while working closely with our communications and digital team.

Responsibilities

- Produce, shoot, and edit videos for a variety of purposes.
- Create graphics for different social media platforms, emails, and printed materials.
- Assist with the creation of social media content

About You

- You are passionate about justice, equity, and progressive leadership.
- You are connected to the community and to the City of Boston.
- You have some experience with graphic design and video editing software. (No need to be an expert, we can train you!)
- You are creative and eager to think of new ideas for engaging video and graphic design content.

To apply, please email jobs@michelleforboston.com with the subject line "Graphic Design and Video Intern." Please include your resume and a few sentences explaining why you think this role is a good fit for you. This position will have some remote components, but may require some in-person staffing, observing COVID-19 safety guidelines. Applicant interviews will begin immediately.
