Botswana: Kalahari, the Delta & Beyond

On This Green Season Safari, Fresh Grass Draws Migrating Wildlife & New Babies Abound

Botswana's lush summer, its most productive and colorful time, offers natural spectacles most travelers miss. Sporadic light rains in the Kalahari Desert mark a time of dramatic change, signaling a great influx of migrating wildlife and plains animal births..."bush babies" are everywhere! From January to April, witness Africa's second-largest migration, with 50,000 zebra and wildebeest passing through the Kalahari. Meet the San people, the earliest hunter-gatherers in southern Africa, whose culture dates back more than 30,000 years. In the Okavango Delta, water levels are typically low during this season, and the drier region of the delta bordering the Moremi Game Reserve offers superb wildlife viewing, with stable populations of lion, leopard, wild dog and more. A special highlight is a visit with a predator researcher at Gomoti Camp, plus exclusive private stays at intimate camps.

Our Botswana green season safari begins just over the border in Livingstone, Zambia, where our Expedition Leader meets you on arrival at the airport. Day 2

Mosi-oa-Tunya National Park

Walk the rim of Victoria Falls and track protected white rhinos

- Follow forested paths above the Zambezi Gorge for changing views of the falls
- Visit a nearby village for insight into daily life
- Track protected white rhinos on foot with expert guides

Our focus today is Mosi-oa-Tunya National Park, which means "the smoke that thunders" in the local Kololo and Lozi languages—a reference to the park's centerpiece, Victoria Falls, which we explore on a guided walking tour this morning. The world's most astounding cataract, Victoria Falls spans more than a mile and plummets 350 feet into the Zambezi Gorge below, producing so much spray that the intense moisture has created a rainforest microecosystem on the rim. A network of walkways offers varying viewpoints over the falls, with exciting photography opportunities.

Next, we visit a nearby village to learn about the culture and daily life of the local people. Then, we head farther into the national park to look for white rhinos—our best chance to see them up close. This small but growing population currently numbers 10 individuals including calves. They're carefully managed and protected from poaching by around-the-clock armed guards. Because predators do not live in the park, we approach the rhinos via a short walk through the diverse landscape, a combination of tall riverine forests, woodland and open grasslands. We're likely to see elephants, giraffes, baboons, plentiful birds and zebra. But the true prize is encountering the placid rhinos, endangered icons of the African wild. During the excursion, we follow the rhinos' movements and observe their behavior as we learn about the critical conservation measures striving to bring this population — and the entire species — back from the brink.

Day 3

Chobe National Park / Okavango Delta

Cruise among Chobe's elephants before flying into the Okavango Delta

- Search for elephants, hippos, crocodiles and waterbirds on a private Chobe River cruise
- Take in aerial views of the Okavango Delta by light aircraft
- Stay at Nat Hab's intimate Gomoti Camp, reserved exclusively for your group

Leaving Zambia by road, we reach the Kazungula border on the Chobe River, where Botswana, Zambia, Zimbabwe and Namibia meet. Entering Botswana, our destination is Chobe National Park, known for its enormous elephant herds and stable population of general wildlife species throughout the year. On a private boat cruise on the Chobe River, expect to see elephant, hippo, crocodile and possibly the more elusive puku and Chobe bushbuck. Up to 400 bird species reside in the park at this time of year, and waterbirds abound, especially herons, storks and egrets. Later this afternoon we fly by light aircraft to Nat Hab's Gomoti Camp in the heart of the community-owned Santawani Concession in the Okavango Delta. This small, intimate camp is reserved exclusively for our group, offering a tremendous sense of seclusion on this private reserve.

Days 4–5

Okavango Delta

Track predators and meet a resident wildlife researcher

- Search for lions, leopards, cheetahs and African wild dogs on wildlife drives
- Set out after dark in search of the delta's nocturnal species
- Learn about local wild dog and predator research during a private visit with an on-site researcher

Earth's largest inland water system, the Okavango Delta, became UNESCO's 1,000th World Heritage Site in 2014. The Okavango River's headwaters lie in the western highlands of Angola, joining with other rivers in Namibia and Botswana to meet the Kalahari Desert, where a green oasis sprawls amid the sands and dry savanna. With its vast network of channels and wetlands, the delta is home to a profuse collection of wildlife and vegetation. Though some of the region is permanently flooded (or typically has been in years past), the water recedes during the southern summer months, opening up normally wetter areas of the delta for game drives and expansive wildlife viewing. Specific wildlife sightings, while always abundant, will depend somewhat on seasonal water levels.

Beyond the flooded areas, a mosaic of varied landscapes includes drier zones like the one surrounding our private Gomoti Camp. A mix of riverine woodland, acacia scrub and open floodplains provides ample food for a large array of browsers and grazers as well as predators. During a private visit with an on-site predator researcher, learn about local studies on wild dog, cheetah and leopard. Wildlife is abundant around camp, and we often see animals wandering through. The diverse range of habitats, plus the year-round lifeline of the Gomoti River, make this region ideal for all-day wildlife excursions, including on traditional 4x4 game drives and night drives. Regular sightings include leopard, lion, wild dog, hyena, cheetah, giraffe, elephant, impala, kudu, zebra, wildebeest and buffalo. Birdlife is also outstanding, and we may see ground hornbill, crimson-breasted shrike and yellow morph, among many others. In the evenings, paraffin hurricane lanterns and a crackling campfire create a romantic ambience in camp.

Days 6–8

Central Okavango

Explore the waterways and floodplains at the heart of the Okavango

- Glide through delta channels by traditional mokoro when water levels permit
- Look for red lechwe, elephants, hippos and crocodiles across the floodplains
- Watch for Pel's fishing-owls, wattled cranes and other wetland birds from Nat Hab's secluded Pelo Camp

This afternoon we fly to the center of the Okavango Delta for a three-night stay on the private Jao Concession, marked by palm-studded islands, riverine forests and sprawling floodplains. Our secluded camp is set within a productive wetland nurturing water-adapted wildlife like the rare sitatunga and abundant red lechwe. In the summer months when typical inundation recedes, lechwe, tsessebe and elephant are prevalent, and we may see lion and the occasional leopard. In the channels, look for hippos and crocodiles, plus scores of birds in the marshes. Pel's fishing owl is a prize sighting, and we may spot African and lesser jacanas, slaty egret, African skimmer, wattled crane and malachite kingfisher, to name just a few. Wildlife concentrations depend on water flow and volume, changing from season to season.

Encounter wildlife in thrilling proximity on 4x4 drives, guided walks (safety permitting), and poled mokoro excursions if water levels permit. The mokoro is the traditional dugout canoe of the delta, and Okavango-born polers reveal intimate secrets of delta life as we spot tiny frogs and colorful waterbirds. Guests may also add an optional 30-minute helicopter flight over the greater Okavango Delta (additional cost), with doors off for the most spectacular photography opportunities! Each evening, retreat to camp for dinner and stories around the flickering campfire before retiring under canvas, surrounded by the night sounds of the African bush.

Please note: Water levels and activities may vary based on actual amounts of annual rainfall.

Days 9–11

Eastern Kalahari / Makgadikgadi Pans

Meerkats, San traditions and the Makgadikgadi salt pans

- Search for gemsbok, springbok and black-maned Kalahari lions
- Spend time with a habituated colony of wild meerkats
- Learn about San traditions in one of Earth's oldest inhabited landscapes

Transfer via Maun by light aircraft to the eastern side of the 360,000-square-mile Kalahari Desert, enjoying a thrilling aerial view on the stark landscape and roaming wildlife below. Our tented camp rests on the edge of the world's largest salt pan, an oasis of comfort shaded by acacia and palm trees. The Makgadikgadi Pans formed when an ancient lake evaporated thousands of years ago, and these shallow depressions are all that remain of once-enormous Lake Makgadikgadi. Today, this vast expanse of salt glitters in the intense sun, evoking a moonscape. The only visible plant life is a thin layer of blue-green algae, but seasonal rains turn the pans into an important habitat for migrating animals, including wildebeest and one of Africa's largest zebra populations, along with the predators that pursue them, including the Kalahari's famous black-maned lions.

During our visit, look for unusual desert-adapted creatures on private game drives as we head out in search of gemsbok, springbok, red hartebeest and steenbok, plus many small mammals such as honey badger and mongoose, and plentiful birds and reptiles. We'll also interact with a friendly habituated colony of meerkats. The Kalahari is the ancient home of the San people, who have subsisted in these austere environs for millennia. Our time includes cultural engagements offering insight into the history and traditions of the clans in the area. Back at camp each night, enjoy some of the best stargazing on the planet.

Maun

Depart Botswana after a final morning in the bush

- Enjoy one last morning surrounded by Kalahari wildlife
- Fly to Maun for onward connections

Our Botswana safari comes to a close today when we depart by air for Maun to connect with onward flights.

The Best Southern Summer Safari You'll Find

Botswana: Kalahari, the Delta & Beyond

Experiencing the Kalahari Desert and Botswana's Okavango Delta during the green season is a distinctive nature adventure in its own right. But to do it the way we do it—maximizing seclusion, with close-up wildlife encounters in especially remote areas—takes this safari experience to a whole different level. Read on!

1 A Small Group—Just 7 Guests—Ensures a More Authentic Safari

Encounters with the natural world are more meaningful in smaller groups—that's why we limit this safari to a maximum of seven guests. This very small group size ensures the most personalized experience possible, in exceptionally secluded locations.

2 A Diverse Summer Season Itinerary

Our less-conventional itinerary offers an experience of Botswana's prolific wildlife during a season when new life abounds but visitors are few. In tandem with World Wildlife Fund, we've designed it to maximize a diverse array of habitats and settings, for the best range of wildlife viewing—including Africa's second-largest migration of zebra and wildebeest from January to April.

3 Stay in Solitude on Private Reserves

In contrast to more heavily visited national parks, we stay in seclusion on Botswana's premier private reserves, including a coveted location next to Makgadikgaki Pans National Park, where we have easy access to all the activities the area has to offer. At this time of year, floodwaters are receding in some areas of the Okavango Delta, opening up vast areas for wildlife viewing on land. In addition to regular daytime game drives, we also do exciting night drives, not allowed in the public parks, in search of nocturnal wildlife.

4 Intimate Luxury Camps

A stand-apart element of this safari is our exceptionally small and secluded camps. Within the privately owned Santawani Concession, Gomoti Tented Camp is for us alone, offering an encounter with the African wilderness evocative of a century ago—which very few safari-goers get to experience.

5 Chartered Flights Maximize Your Time on Safari

We book seats on chartered light aircraft for transfers between safari locations, enhancing your time with wildlife and maximizing comfort by eliminating long drives over rough dirt roads.

6 An Open "Window" Seat for Everyone

The top-quality safari vehicles we charter have open sides (no glass to interfere with your view) and 10 cushioned passenger seats—one in front next to the driver followed by three rows of three seats each. Yet we limit our capacity to just seven travelers per vehicle on wildlife drives! The three rows of seats are tiered, with higher seats in the rear so no one's forward view is impaired.This ensures maximum comfort, viewing, space for gear, and easy photo opportunities.

7 Private Verandas for Personal Wildlife Viewing

Our luxury tented safari camps have private verandas so you never miss a chance to encounter animals that may wander past—and enjoy the view from your own secluded space.

8 The World's Finest Naturalist Guides

We're proud to work with the best-trained, most experienced naturalist guides in Africa. A Nat Hab Safari Expedition Leader accompanies your group from start to finish, ensuring highly personalized service. Our Expedition Leaders are among the most qualified guides in Africa, averaging 15 years' guiding experience, with additional training resources provided by WWF scientists. Our philosophy is simple: an African safari is only as good as the guide, so we must provide the very best! See Expedition Leader bios with traveler comments regarding the quality of our leaders.

9 Our Quality-Value Guarantee Ensures Your Outstanding Safari

Every traveler receives Natural Habitat's exclusive guarantee, which clearly states that we will meet the lofty expectations we set in our promotional materials. To our knowledge, this is the most ambitious guarantee made by any adventure travel company. Read our important promise.

10 Feel Good About Your Carbon-Neutral Journey

We care deeply about our planet, as we know you do. When you travel with us, the carbon emissions from your trip are 100% offset—including your round-trip flights from home. Natural Habitat Adventures has been the world's first carbon-neutral travel company since 2007.

11 Natural Habitat Adventures is WWF's Travel Partner

Because of our commitment to environmentally friendly travel, as well as the exceptional quality of our adventures, World Wildlife Fund—the world's leading environmental conservation organization—has named Natural Habitat Adventures as its worldwide travel partner, a designation that makes us exceedingly proud.

Important Information About This Trip

During Botswana's green season, photography and game viewing offer a unique experience, as mother ungulates give birth at this time and the lush landscape provides a spectacular backdrop against which to observe the animals. To maximize access to the most exciting and remote areas, we stay in luxury tented camps (all amenities en suite) to provide comfort while enhancing the total safari experience. Changes to the itinerary may occur on these trips in order to take advantage of conditions unique to the season. Depending upon availability, itineraries may run in a different order from what is designated.

Mandatory Insurance

Since the areas we travel to on this trip are remote and wild (that's why we go there!), we require medical evacuation insurance for our guests' safety. If you decline the medical evacuation insurance coverage offered by Natural Habitat, we request that you send us documentation of the independent coverage you have selected. We will add the cost of a medical evacuation policy to your tour invoice until you provide our office with proof of coverage, including your insurance company's name, contact number and your individual policy number. Thank you for understanding that our policy exists exclusively in the interest of our guests' safety.

Getting There & Getting Home

This trip begins in Livingstone, Zambia, and ends in Maun, Botswana. Because this is a long international journey, we recommend that you arrive at least one night prior to Day 1 to rest from your travels and begin the trip refreshed. For guests who come in early, recommended hotels will be included in your pre-departure materials. You must arrive in Livingstone before 1 pm on Day 1 in order to join the group for the first scheduled activities.
