Even among the "engaged" derms who attend state society meetings, legislative engagement is pretty low. How to make that more interesting and seem like a low hurdle? What messages will fire them up (in states with high proportion of employed derms, the medicare physician payment reform issue is actually a little remote from how they are compensated)..

There are several issues raised in a recent AAD Clinical Community that Dr Taylor nicely addressed. It brings to light considerations by some members and raises several potential areas for BOD to at least, be aware of and potentially consider/discuss (Derm Daily third party curation/unfiltered content and clickbait titles; pharma influence on AAD content) I don't have a strong feeling about bringing this up and defer to leadership to decide if they want to include it.
