

Web-based Clinical Decision Support System

VISUALDX

We understand you face many challenges so you can provide high-quality care to patients. We wanted to ease the burden and found VisualDx. They can help bring you peace of mind and efficiency to your practice.

A recent survey of VisualDx users revealed the top three: administrative tasks, time management, and heavy caseload.¹ Dermatologists turn to technology like VisualDx to bring ease and efficiency to their profession. In fact, 75% of VisualDx dermatology users employ the software either every day or every few days – for time savings and the valuable information provided. Their survey indicated how our members were using VisualDx:

- 78% Looking up treatment options
- 77% Looking up disease information
- 67% Reviewing medical images to confirm a diagnosis
- 59% Answering clinical questions
- 44% Sharing information and images with patients

With VisualDx, dermatologists can confirm their diagnosis, educate patients, and review and present their treatment plan.
