PRESIDENT-ELECT CANDIDATES HAVE AGREED TO ABIDE BY THE FOLLOWING EXCERPT FROM THE ADMINISTRATIVE REGULATION ON CODE FOR INTERACTIONS WITH COMPANIES

Direct Financial Relationship⁸: A Direct Financial Relationship is a relationship held by an individual that results in wages, consulting fees, honoraria, or other compensation (in cash, in stock options, or in kind), whether paid to the individual or to another entity at the direction of the individual, for the individual's services or expertise. As used in this Code, the term Direct Financial Relationship does not mean stock ownership or intellectual property licensing arrangements. See Principle 1.4 for additional clarification of the meaning of Direct Financial Relationship.

⁸ Definition: A Direct Financial Relationship is a compensated relationship held by an individual that should generate an IRS Form W-2, 1099 or equivalent income report. Key Society Leaders (including the President, President-Elect, Immediate Past President, the Secretary-Treasurer, Assistant Secretary-Treasurer, the chief executive officer of a Society's membership organization, and the Editor(s)-in-Chief of Society Journal(s)) may provide uncompensated service to for-profit health care products companies ("Companies") and accept reasonable travel reimbursement in connection with those services. Key Society Leaders may accept research support as long as grant money is paid to the institution (e.g., academic medical center) or practice where the research is conducted, not to the individual. Exception may be made in certain circumstances for provision of consultant or investigator expertise related to protocol development and/or safety monitoring or any other consulting work related to one's own past, current or potential research studies as long as the activities are not related to marketing or promotional efforts. In this event, the Secretary-Treasurer must be provided with background information and approval must be provided in advance for an exception to the policy. In these circumstances, compensation to the individual may not exceed $10,000/company/year. Verifying 1099 forms must be submitted to the Secretary-Treasurer when received. This exception may not be applied to the President, who shall remain free from any and all direct financial relationships during his/her term of office.

SECRETARY-TREASURER REPORT

Dr. Van Beek stated that the actions of the Board of Directors for the past year had been reported in Dermatology World and posted on the American Academy of Dermatology website and that no further action was required.

Disposition of the 2019 and 2020 Annual Business Meeting Minutes

Dr. Van Beek previously stated that the minutes of the 2019 and 2020 AAD Annual Business Meeting were included in the 2021 AAD Election Ballot Book for member approval.

Disposition of the 2019 Audited Financial Statements for the American Academy of Dermatology (AAD)

Dr. Van Beek reported that the 2019 Audited Financial Statements were approved by the Academy Board of Directors and published in the November 2020 edition of Dermatology World. They are also available on the Academy's website.

Dr. Van Beek then provided a high-level financial overview of the 2020 financial statements, budget, strategic plan and other activities.

She provided a comparison of the 2020 financials to those of 2019, to provide a perspective of where the Academy has been, currently is, and where the Academy needs to go in the future to continue to move the specialty forward.

She stated that the Academy was currently undergoing the audit process for 2020, so the presentation covers the Academy's un-audited financials. She also explained that the results of the Academy's audit would be shared with membership once it was complete.

Dr. Van Beek shared that the Academy underwent a rigorous review of existing programs this past year to continually ensure that the Academy is providing its members with access to valuable programs and resource that are meeting the member's needs and that the Academy is utilizing member and staff resources efficiently. She applauded the Program Assessment Work Group for the enormous amount of work reviewing and assessing how programs aligned with the Academy's strategic goals.

She provided pie graphs showing the major source of revenue for the Academy comes from meetings and our other educational offerings and that with the cancellation of two AAD meetings in 2020, that source of revenue was profoundly diminished. She commended the AAD finance and meetings staff for having the where-with-all to secure insurance that included coverage in the case of a pandemic. That insurance coverage and the enormous work by our staff to provide the thousands of pages of documentation to the underwriter, ensured the financial stability of the AAD this year. Dr. Van Beek explained that 2020 brought many challenges, however the AAD had weathered the year more resilient and nimbler than ever before.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Dr. Thiers stated that there was no unfinished business.

NEW BUSINESS

Dr. Thiers entertained questions and comments from the attendees. There were none.

ADJOURNMENT

There being no further business, Dr. Thiers adjourned the Annual Business Meeting of the American Academy of Dermatology at 9:37 a.m. (CT).

Respectfully submitted,

Marta J. Van Beek, MD, MPH, FAAD

RESPONSE TO THE QUESTION POSED BY THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE

What do you consider the top three (3) priorities/challenges for the Academy and how would you address them?

Our dermatology specialty and our practices continue to face challenges from many different directions on a day-to-day basis, and as president of the AAD, my singular focus will be to serve and address the needs of each and every member. In my opinion, our top challenges center around the following main pillars:

1. Obtaining fair valuation and reimbursement for our services
2. Dealing with onerous regulatory burdens that hinder our ability to practice
3. Health system hurdles we each face as physicians as we strive to deliver the highest quality patient care

Reimbursement for the services we provide continues to be a critical issue, one which we must tackle with political advocacy and united as dermatologists. Just this year alone, CMS has already cut our reimbursement for our office visits and procedures performed, and all while in the midst of a global pandemic that has threatened all of our practices, no matter the practice model. Many of you will recall the annual uncertainty of the Sustainable Growth Rate (SGR) payment challenges that led to constant looming reimbursement cuts. We cannot and must not go through experiences like that yet again. As president, I will ensure that our Academy leads the way in continued and augmented high level political advocacy at the federal and state level to ensure that we do not get caught in repeated cuts and threats to our reimbursement.

Regulatory burdens and challenges continue to be something each of us encounter within our practices. From restrictions on our ability to compound medications, scope of practice encroachment from non-dermatologists, impractical and heightened OSHA restrictions, threats of increased HIPAA fines from the Office of the Inspector General, and so much more. While these are just some examples of policies and procedures that hamper our ability to run our practices and see our patients, even the smallest shift in regulatory oversight can have major consequences. If elected, I will continue and increase the strong political efforts of our Academy so that we can address these regulatory burdens proactively rather than reactively.

Finally, health system hurdles such as the recent iPledge system changes, step-therapy regulations to obtain medications for our patients, prior authorizations and the rising cost of generic medications, are all examples of time consuming and costly burdens that hamper our ability as dermatologists to do what we love most - providing the highest quality care to our patients. As president, I will convene a dermatologist led initiative to optimize our strategy aimed at eliminating and improving as many of these hurdles as possible.

As president of our Academy, my role and duty will be to always put the needs and desires of you my colleagues and fellow dermatologists above my own, and of this you have my sincere promise. Thank you for this incredible opportunity to serve you, serve our patients, and serve our Academy. I hope you will honor me with the opportunity to represent you, our AAD and our dermatology specialty that we all so deeply love.

RESPONSE TO THE QUESTION POSED BY THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE

What do you consider the top three (3) priorities/challenges for the Academy and how would you address them?

1) Payor Advocacy: Since 2001, the cost of running a medical practice has increased 39%, while payments to physicians have increased only 11%. Even more striking, inflation-adjusted payments to physicians are down 55%. During this period, payments to nursing homes and hospitals increased. In 2022, a 9% CMS pay cut for physicians is projected as practice costs rise at the highest rate in memory. There is a snowballing effect as the fees established by insurance companies mirror Medicare's decisions. Dermatologists must play a role in collaboration with the House of Medicine to demand fair treatment and prevent economic pressures that will lead to early retirements, closure of private and small group practices, and further financial stress on academic institutions. It is time to move beyond thanking CMS for not cutting physicians' compensation.

2) Drug Access and Affordability: My limited staff is paralyzed with the burden of completing complex prior authorization forms. I am often forced to prescribe the allowable option required by "step-therapy," even when the steps are imperfect or even nonsensical. Just as organized medicine was able to help managed care gain control of costs through physician-developed, uniform, appropriate use criteria (AUC), there is a way to place physicians at the center of this issue. Pharmacy benefit managers (PBMs) appeared in the late 20th century to adjudicate prescription drug claims for insurance companies. They have become a black hole for billions of dollars in health care spending and have not properly managed the cost of drugs for patients. The American Academy of Dermatology must join with a broad coalition of stakeholders to rein in or eliminate PBMs and develop a fair and transparent system for the benefit of patients.

3) Access to High-Quality Dermatologic Care: While there are cities within the United States where dermatologists are plentiful, they are scarce in many rural and inner-city areas. The skin care provided by primary care physicians in these rural "dermatology deserts" cannot compete with the high-quality care delivered by board-certified dermatologists. Unfortunately, the problem is getting worse, because fewer young dermatologists are choosing rural practice. At the University of Mississippi, we have applied common sense approaches to this problem. These include: 1) creating a dermatology department and residency program where none existed; 2) establishing a rural academic office to enable medical students and residents to see the joys of rural practice; and 3) initiating a rural residency training track for medical students interested in practicing in underserved areas. In just 10 years since the inception of the residency program, the University of Mississippi accounts for 35% of all dermatologists actively practicing in Mississippi, with many of our graduates practicing in underserved areas. Perhaps our successes will motivate dermatologists in the 11 rural states without training programs to follow similar initiatives.

RESPONSE TO THE QUESTION POSED BY THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE

How would you support the Academy in achieving its strategic priorities?

Having helped develop the AAD's Strategic Plan, I have a vested interest in seeing it through and a responsibility for its success. The ultimate goal of our plan is to give dermatologists, as leaders of the healthcare team, the tools necessary to provide for patients the best dermatologic care possible.

- To achieve our goal, patients must have access to care. I will continue elevating our advocacy efforts to ensure dermatologists are able to keep their practices open and receive fair payment for in-person and telemedicine services.
- Patients must have access to affordable medications. I will help advance our efforts to expose PBMs and insurance companies who are responsible for making medications unaffordable and for unnecessarily costing us time and money jumping through loopholes like prior authorizations.
- Education and communication are of paramount importance in an ever-changing healthcare system that not only faces endless regulatory requirements and challenges, but also enjoys therapeutic breakthroughs that change the way we treat diseases. I will help ensure that we provide our members with the valuable educational and communication tools they need to stay informed.

In addition, as your Vice President:

- I will support our President's vision and initiatives
- I will serve as a liaison and resource to our AAD Advisory Board
- I will stay attuned to emerging issues that dermatologists face in all practice arenas
- I will work in unity with our members and our leadership to find solutions to challenges
- I will listen to you and help turn your ideas into progressive actions

RESPONSE TO THE QUESTION POSED BY THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE

How would you support the Academy in achieving its strategic priorities?

As VP elect, I will support the Academy's strategic priorities through commitment, effort, energy, and innovation. Our mission is to "advance excellence in dermatology," and my dedication and efforts will be to make sure the Academy represents our mission.

First and foremost, we need to be unified and speak with one strong voice-strong enough for the public, regulatory agencies, the rest of medicine, and legislators to hear. To help develop our message(s), I will be a close liaison to the advisory board and be a sounding board for all members who wish to speak, so that our message(s) do indeed represent our membership. I am committed to listen and hear. I am a firm believer that from our range of voices, we can develop more complete, coherent, and innovative ideas/approaches.

I intend to be a fervent advocate to all stakeholders to help deliver our message. The Academy must be relentless in its advocacy efforts to make sure we are the leaders of the health care team, developers of data used to make decisions on how we are paid, and the decision makers for the medications we use and how we care for our patients.

In summary, I would like to be there, be everywhere, and be a leader who sends our member-centric message(s) that help ensure everyone knows the Academy means excellence in dermatology and is the place to go for all things related to it.

RESPONSE TO THE QUESTION POSED BY THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE

What do you feel is the most important issue facing Dermatologists today and how do you feel you can address this issue?

Dermatologists face tremendous pressure to practice safely and effectively. This is coupled with a downward spiral in reimbursement, a workforce shortage and unrelenting practice overhead inflation all over the country, to the detriment of our patients. Students going into dermatology are the best and the brightest and we need them as the volume of knowledge increases exponentially, while access to quality dermatologic care is still suboptimal. I plan to address these issues by working for you to enhance our quality CME programs, while strengthening our practice and personal support programs that are key areas the AAD must focus on while building its strength both financially and influentially to support the future of dermatology.

RESPONSE TO THE QUESTION POSED BY THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE

What do you feel is the most important issue facing Dermatologists today and how do you feel you can address this issue?

I believe that we advocate for patient care by protecting and supporting the physicians who care for them. My goal is to protect your ability to serve.

Thus our priority as an organization should be to reduce the administrative, financial and regulatory burdens placed on our physician members so they can focus on their patients and communities.

We can advance these goals through public policy efforts at the state and national level and through creating free resources that support and ease the practice of dermatology for our members.

For many years I have been working on these issues through legislative advocacy with our national dermatology organizations, which will guide and inform initiatives that I would champion on the Board of the AAD.

RESPONSE TO THE QUESTION POSED BY THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE

What do you feel is the most important issue facing Dermatologists today and how do you feel you can address this issue?

The most important issue facing dermatologists today is the devaluation of our training, skills, and knowledge. In the changing health care arena, dermatologists need to maintain our unique position as the experts in skin, hair, and nails. We face ongoing pressure of declining reimbursement, coupled with increasing practice costs and inflation. Escalating payment hassles decrease practice profitability and lead to burnout. We must ensure that our services are fairly valued and properly compensated. I have had the privilege of serving you on every AAD payment-related committee. In my interactions with our members, I learned first-hand how payment issues threaten our specialty. As a Board member, I will ensure that the AAD is committed to placing the appropriate time, attention, and effort on maintaining our value.

RESPONSE TO THE QUESTION POSED BY THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE

What do you feel is the most important issue facing Dermatologists today and how do you feel you can address this issue?

Declining payment for medical, surgical, and dermatopathology services threatens our ability to sustain our practices and provide optimal care. This is worsened by inflation, administrative burdens, and staff resignations which make it harder to keep pace with overhead. The causes include continued government and private payer pressure to lower payments, reduced leverage when insurance companies narrow networks, and obstacles including prior authorization and step therapy to access treatments. That is why it is more critical than ever to use our collective voice as an Academy to lead and influence our future and have a seat at the table. My years serving and leading Academy governance committees including the Academy's Government Affairs Council have provided me with skills to strategize and overcome headwinds facing our specialty.

RESPONSE TO THE QUESTION POSED BY THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE

What do you feel is the most important issue facing Dermatologists today and how do you feel you can address this issue?

Undoubtedly COVID has changed medicine and dermatology beyond belief. Through the pandemic, we have seen numerous people succumb to the disease and many complications from both the virus and vaccinations. Unfortunately, the fear from contracting the virus has impeded individuals from seeking appropriate care. Too often, patients present to their dermatologists with skin issues that should have been treated months to over a year earlier. Hospitals remain a hotbed for infections. In contrast, outpatient medicine has been a safe place for patients and clinics have implemented many safeguards to prevent spread of the virus. It is critical that we begin a positive campaign to the general public to promote patients to seek appropriate timely care.

RESPONSE TO THE QUESTION POSED BY THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE

What do you feel is the most important issue facing Dermatologists today and how do you feel you can address this issue?

As dermatology practices are rebuilding from the Covid-19 pandemic, supporting our board-certified dermatologists' ability to provide cost efficient, high quality and accessible dermatologic care by ensuring fair reimbursement for all of our services, including teledermatology, through advocacy is paramount. Over the past 18 years, the knowledge and experience from being Chairman of an academic dermatology department of 40 physicians and over 100 support staff and administrative staff has helped me appreciate the many challenges faced in managing a practice. I feel I can be a strong voice in advocacy on payment policy for the Academy to avoid future steep payment cuts for our specialty.

RESPONSE TO THE QUESTION POSED BY THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE

What do you feel is the most important issue facing Dermatologists today and how do you feel you can address this issue?

There are a number of critical issues facing our profession today – from pharmaceutical access and affordability to new technology like artificial intelligence, diversity and inclusion to skin cancer awareness and access to sunscreen. One particularly critical issue is that of physician payment. We have seen costs skyrocket and reimbursements go down. This has been devastating to many dermatology practices and has had a dramatic effect on patient care. We need to come together, to build our brand, to show our value as trained physicians, and raise our voices. I have spent my career advocating for our profession and, as a member of the board, will continue to engage policy makers at the highest levels to ensure that our voice is heard.

RESPONSE TO THE QUESTION POSED BY THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE

What do you feel is the most important issue facing Dermatologists today and how do you feel you can address this issue?

Dermatologists can no longer practice without onerous insurance regulations nor prescribe medications without capricious cost containment restrictions. Dermatologists are now told how to treat patients and what medications to prescribe regardless of efficacy or appropriateness. Dermatologists treat by cost saving algorithms, rather than tailoring their treatment to suit the patient's problem. Dermatologists are unable to charge a reasonable fee for services rendered without unjustifiable reductions and random denials by insurance companies.

The AAD and its members must lobby Washington to:

- ✓ Stop the escalating cost of medications and eliminate the need for prior authorization.
- ✓ Stop the oppressive regulatory demands of insurance companies and reduce the burden of practice.
- ✓ Stop unfair payer reimbursement practices and reduce dermatologists' burnout.

RESPONSE TO THE QUESTION POSED BY THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE

What leadership qualities are most important for officers of the American Academy of Dermatology to possess?

Entrusting our specialty's new leaders means identifying our peers with the talent, the temperament, and the vision to lead. Leaders listen before they speak, think twice before hitting send, and read the room. Leaders will work to open doors for those behind them, yet avoid the pitfalls of groupthink. Leaders direct traffic while others follow it, and hand the ball to the ref after scoring instead of seeking accolades.

Leaders of the AAD are those we seek, while those who seek us often have another agenda. We want AAD Officers and Directors from all walks of life who see what is right for the marathon and sprint alike. My experiences in AAD governance and running conferences will help dermatologists identify our future leaders.

RESPONSE TO THE QUESTION POSED BY THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE

What leadership qualities are most important for officers of the American Academy of Dermatology to possess?

Leadership should strive to be objective and seek to take all aspects of an issue or topic into consideration prior to rendering an opinion or making a decision. Leadership means actively looking for new talent and engaging those who possess different and unique qualities and ideas. Our organization and leadership team should reflect and embrace the diversity of our members and patient population. We need to improve cross-cultural communication to more effectively represent the members and connect with the patients at large. The officers are trusted with preserving the integrity and honor of the American Academy of Dermatology to help protect and support our specialty today and far beyond tomorrow.

EXCERPT — NOMINATION AND ELECTION PROCEDURES

9. Election Period

The term “Election Period” as used in this Administrative Regulation is defined as that time between the date of identification of slated candidates by the Nominating Committee and the deadline date for receipt of ballots. This term is distinct from the term “election cycle” used in the Academy bylaws. (Article VI, Section 3 (a)).

10. Ballot and Ballot Book

- The ballot and ballot book shall be sent or otherwise be made available to all eligible voters.

Membership will be notified via e-mail and fax alerts of such posting. These alerts will have a link that will take members directly to the candidate election materials. Candidates may disseminate their approved optional letter by email or post it to social media sites and may include a link to the AAD election website. Candidates who wish to disseminate their optional letter by mail to Academy members who have not provided e-mail or fax numbers are personally responsible for doing so and for all associated expenses. The Academy will provide the names and addresses of those Academy members who do not have e-mail addresses or fax numbers to candidates for a one-time use upon request.

Candidates may disseminate the official Academy announcement with links to the Academy election website in their authorized communications to Academy members under this Administrative Regulation.

The optional letter:

- must be formatted on the candidate’s letterhead or plain paper, which shall be

No changes to the optional letter will be allowed after it is submitted to the Academy by the candidate. The Academy will not be responsible for errors in the final version of the optional letter submitted by the candidate.

- Once the official slate of candidates is announced, candidates, and other individual members are permitted to engage in the dissemination of letters, emails, or other forms of written or electronic communications, including the slated candidate approved optional letter, in support of their candidacies or the candidates. These individuals may not be current or incoming AAD officers or directors, or members of the Nominating Committee or Ad Hoc Task Force on Election Oversight. Candidate(s) who are also current sitting AAD officers or directors may disseminate written communications in support of their own candidacy in addition to their one optional letter. They may not send communications in support of other candidates. Such communications may not criticize, defame¹, or denigrate other candidates and must be consistent with the Academy’s Code of Medical Ethics for Dermatologists, including the responsibility that Academy members treat each other with mutual respect in their communications with each other. Candidates may not fund or pay compensation for communications in support of their candidacies by other individuals (whether members, non-members, employees or independent contractors), groups (as defined in Section 13. h. below), or other entities, or request that others finance the cost of such communications.

- Candidates may give presentations in support of their candidacy at local, state, regional and sub-specialty dermatologic meetings if all other slated candidates for the position have been invited to present. To ensure all candidates for the same position are invited, these invitations should be directed to the Academy’s Executive Office at candidates@aad.org. At these sessions, candidates’ presentations should focus on their views regarding relevant Academy policy.
- Candidates may participate in social media discussions. However, when responding to questions on issues that are of relevance to their candidacy, candidates are strongly encouraged to refer their responses back to the Academy’s social media election site. In no circumstances may candidates criticize, defame or denigrate other candidates in their social media discussions.
- Candidates may give educational, scientific, or clinical presentations or interviews at dermatologic meetings or in related publications. However, presentations in these circumstances may not contain any political or electioneering content, and the candidates must refrain from mentioning their candidacy, other candidates, or the election. Other similar presentations or interviews may also be permitted as long as they contain no reference to the current election.

- g. Distribution by candidates of flyers, gifts, trinkets, pins, ribbons, balloons, and other similar items in support of the candidate is prohibited.
- h. Members and groups or organizations are encouraged to submit questions to the Nominating Committee for possible selection for response from candidates in the ballot book. Groups or organizations may encourage their members or employed, affiliated, or subscribing dermatologists to vote in the Academy election and may publish or otherwise disseminate the official list of slated candidates to their members or employed, affiliated, or subscribing dermatologists and provide links to the candidates' materials on the Academy election website, but groups or organizations are strongly discouraged from disseminating letters, emails, or other forms of written or electronic communications endorsing, campaigning for, or otherwise supporting particular candidates or identifying them as members, employees, affiliates, or subscribers of their groups or organizations. Candidates may not solicit and should affirmatively discourage endorsements or other support of their candidacies from groups or organizations.

For purposes of this Section 13.h., "groups" or "organizations" include formal or informal groups or organizations with three (3) or more members or employed, affiliated, or subscribing dermatologists who are AAD voting members, including but not limited to, national, state or local dermatology or other medical societies; dermatology departments in academic medical centers, medical clinics, or hospitals; dermatology practices (regardless of type of ownership); or social media groups, or other for profit or non-profit corporate entity that meets the requirements of this section.

- i. President-Elect Candidates Presentation
President-Elect candidates have the option of giving a (5) five-minute presentation at the Annual Business Meeting. This presentation must be submitted in final written format to the Executive Office no later than (5) five days prior to the Annual Meeting. Candidates should indicate the format they will use to give their presentation i.e., PowerPoint, teleprompter. The final version of each President-Elect Candidate's presentation will be posted to the Academy Website as submitted. President-elect Candidates are encouraged to participate in a rehearsal that is held at the Annual Meeting. During rehearsal, speeches will be timed to ensure they are within the five-minute time limit. There will be a warning light at the podium to notify the candidates during their live speeches when they have thirty seconds remaining in their five-minute time limit. In fairness to both candidates, the microphone will be shut off at or very shortly after the time limit has elapsed. Each President-elect candidate's five-minute videotaped speech will be posted to the Academy's election Website together. President-elect candidates may disseminate their AAD approved 5-minute videotaped speech after the Annual Business Meeting.
- j. Slated Candidate Videotaped Statement
Slated Candidates for the position of Vice President-elect, Director and Nominating Committee member representative are encouraged to participate in a videotaped statement to be recorded no later than the Friday prior to the opening of the Annual Meeting. This is in addition to, and not in place of the optional candidate letter. Slated candidates may disseminate their AAD approved videotaped statement after it has been posted to the AAD Election webpage.

The content of the videotaped statement will be the decision of the individual candidate. Candidates are responsible for assuring that the statement is done in a professional manner, i.e., no dancing, music, dogs doing tricks, etc. and will fit into the time limits listed below. Candidates are encouraged to rehearse their statements.

The time that has been allotted for the candidate videotaped statement is as follows:

Vice President-Elect	One Minute

Nominating Committee Member Representative	30 Seconds

- k. Candidates will be asked to complete a questionnaire on the election process prior to the announcement of the final results of the election.

14. Authorized Election Activities by Director Write-in Candidates following Slate Announcement

- a. Unsuccessful nominees who wish to be a Director write-in candidate, have been vetted by the Nominating Committee, and are a Fellow in good standing with the Academy, are required to submit their name in writing to the American Academy of Dermatology, attention Secretary-Treasurer, by a designated date that is ten (10) days prior to the opening of the election. Such individuals will be eligible to run as a Director write-in candidate, subject to the same background checks as conducted for short-listed Director candidates. Based on the results of such additional vetting, written approval by the Secretary-Treasurer will be granted after the Academy's official slate of candidates is announced.
- b. Director Write-in candidates are also subject to the rules outlined in Paragraph 13. c through 13. h and k, including without limitation the restriction on any election-related communications in support of their candidacy prior to the announcement of the official slate of candidates.
- c. Director Write-in candidates' electronic Disclosure Statements of Potential Conflict of Interest, photograph, curriculum vitae and the answer to the Nominating Committee question will be posted to the Academy Website for viewing by the membership on a webpage linked off of the Academy's official slated candidate's webpage.
- d. Director Write-in candidates will be invited to participate on the candidate briefing call; their names will not appear in the ballot book.
- e. Director write-in candidates shall receive a distinctive ribbon identifying them as such to wear at the Annual meeting.

15. Ballot Return Date

To be valid and in accordance with Paragraph 17 of this Administrative Regulation, ballots:

- a. must be submitted online or sent directly to the independent election service designated therein.
- b. must be received or electronically posted by a date designated therein, which date shall be within two weeks of the opening date of the election.
- c. must not contain write-in votes for Officers and Nominating Committee member representative positions.
- d. may contain a vote for one (1) eligible Director write-in candidate.
- e. may not exceed four (4) votes for Directors inclusive of one (1) Director write-in candidate.

16. Announcement of Election Results

Successful candidates shall be announced as soon as practicable after the ballot return date.

17. Official Election Candidate Results

The official results of each election certified by the independent election service are kept on file at the Academy office. Each candidate may verbally receive their numerical results of the election in which the individual was a candidate by contacting the Secretary-Treasurer or Assistant Secretary-Treasurer. An unsuccessful Director candidate, from the current election period, may verbally request the numerical result of the Director elected to the fourth seat. The Secretary-Treasurer or Assistant Secretary-Treasurer may verbally provide the numerical result without identifying the elected Director by name.

18. Assumption of Office⁴

Successful candidates shall assume office at the conclusion of the Annual Meeting following the election.

19. Manner of Notice and Announcement

Notice(s) and Announcement(s) required by this Administrative Regulation shall be in writing and, unless otherwise specified by the Academy Bylaws or this Administrative Regulation, may be affected by publication in an official Academy or Association publication, by United States mail, or by facsimile, or electronic transmission.

20. Ad Hoc Task Force on Election Oversight

An ad hoc task force will be appointed each year prior to the Call for Nominations, to monitor the Academy's election process and election activities. The ad hoc task force will be chaired by the Immediate Past President holding office when slated candidates are announced, and will be further comprised of the President, Secretary-Treasurer or Assistant Secretary-Treasurer, and the following individuals appointed by the President: a past member of the Board of Directors, a recent past member of the Nominating Committee, a member of the Advisory Board, and a recent unsuccessful candidate. The president may appoint up to two (2) additional members at his/her discretion. Members asked to serve on the AHTF on Election Oversight should not accept the appointment if they anticipate becoming a candidate in the upcoming election. Upon acceptance of the AHTF appointment, the member must remain neutral throughout their term, which includes, but is not limited to, the nominating process and Election Period. The AHTF members are restricted from submitting nominations, supporting nominees, writing letters or speaking in support of any nominee, potential candidate, slated candidate or write-in candidate running for office.

The Ad Hoc Task Force on Election Oversight will report any recommendations for sanctions to the Board of Directors. At the end of the election process, the Ad Hoc Task Force will present a formal report to the Board of Directors and include any recommendations that it may have for revisions to existing regulations.

21. Member and Candidate Sanctions for Failure to Comply with Regulations

The Ad Hoc Task Force on Election Oversight is responsible for addressing inappropriate communications and works with the member, individual, slated or write-in candidate(s) to resolve the issue. The Ad Hoc Task Force has the authority to block a member's or candidate's access to the AAD Election Connection! Should further review or sanctions be required, the Ad Hoc Task Force will refer the issue to the Board of Directors or the Professionalism and Ethics Committee. Candidates or other members may not file a complaint with the Professionalism and Ethics Committee based on an alleged violation of this Administrative Regulation unless the Ad Hoc Task Force has first found that such violation occurred and that referral to the Professionalism and Ethics Committee is appropriate. The foregoing does not prevent candidates and other members from filing complaints directly with the Professionalism and Ethics Committee based on election-related conduct that they believe violates the Administrative Regulation on Code of Medical Ethics for Dermatologists for a reason other than a violation of this administrative regulation.

Slated and write-in candidate(s), who are found, by a majority vote of the Board of Directors, to be in violation of the above regulations may, at the Board's discretion, be subject to sanctions, including but not limited to, removal from the ballot and/or nullification of votes received.

The Board of Directors retains discretion to alter the dates within this administrative regulation to accommodate special circumstances.

¹ Definition of written and oral defamation: The act of making and publishing (to one or more third parties) untrue statements of fact about another which damages his/her reputation. If the defamatory statement is printed or broadcast over the media, including social media, it is libel and, if only oral, it is slander. The following are examples of what constitutes a social introduction and of possible campaign activities. ² Socially introduce – A member encounters a candidate while attending a function (social or otherwise) at the annual meeting. The encounter happens at unpredictable times and locations i.e., before/after a session or meeting, dinners, receptions, etc. The member is allowed to casually introduce the candidate. ³ Campaign for – When a candidate and member prepare a plan of action so they can attend as many of the same functions together. The member would then introduce the candidate to many colleagues (at each function) and ask for their vote or remind them to vote. A candidate could also stand by an elevator/escalator or in a busy area of the convention center for an extended period-of-time with a member who introduces him/her while asking for their vote or reminding them to vote. ⁴ The fiduciary obligations of elected officers and directors generally apply when they officially take office at the end of the Annual Meeting following their election. However, these individuals must abide by the fiduciary obligations of officers and directors during the year following their election and before they formally take office to the extent that they are involved in any Board of Directors meetings, activities, or decisions, particularly with respect to confidential information.
