CONDUCT AT AAD/A MEETINGS AND OTHER AAD/A ACTIVITIES

INTRODUCTION:
The purpose of this policy is to ensure a professional and collegial environment for Academy/Association (AAD/A) meetings and other activities in which AAD/A members and staff are treated with mutual respect. AAD/A staff are governed by a harassment policy contained in their employee manual, which is incorporated herein by reference. The policy below elaborates on the employee manual and discusses policies that also apply to AAD/A members and meeting attendees.

Behavior that is welcome or acceptable to one person may be unwelcome or offensive to another. Consequently, individuals must use discretion to ensure that their words and actions communicate respect for others. This is particularly important for those in positions of authority since individuals who are subject to such authority may be reluctant to express their objections or discomfort regarding unwelcome behavior. Harassment intended in a joking manner still constitutes unacceptable behavior. Actions resulting in fear for one’s safety and well-being is a criminal offense and proper authorities would be contacted.

DEFINITIONS:

Harassment – Unwelcome conduct that is based on race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy, sexual orientation, and gender identity), national origin or ethnicity, age, disability, genetic information, veteran or military service, or any other basis protected by federal, state or local law. Harassment becomes unlawful where the conduct is severe or pervasive enough to create an environment that a reasonable person would consider intimidating, hostile, or abusive. Anti-discrimination laws also prohibit harassment against individuals in retaliation for filing a discrimination charge, testifying, or participating in any way in an investigation, proceeding, or lawsuit under these laws; or opposing employment practices that they reasonably believe discriminate against individuals in violation of these laws.

- Hostile or Offensive Environment – As noted above, any behavior by an individual or group that contributes to a hostile, intimidating, offensive and/or unwelcoming environment or otherwise substantially interfering with an individual’s environment is prohibited. This includes, but is not limited to, speech or behavior that a reasonable person would find unwelcome or offensive whether it is based on any of the legally-protected classifications set forth above (see above) or any other legally protected status. AAD also strongly discourages discrimination or hostile conduct based on other factors, such as physical appearance, marital status, or political affiliation. This conduct includes, but is not limited to, epithets, slurs, or negative stereotyping; threatening, intimidating, or hostile acts; demeaning jokes and display or circulation of written or graphic material that demeans or shows hostility or aversion toward an individual or group. Retaliatory harassment is also prohibited.

- Sexual Harassment – Sexual harassment refers to unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical actions of a sexual nature. The following examples may constitute sexual harassment if unwelcome: sexual flirtations, advances, or propositions; unnecessary touching; verbal comments or physical actions of a sexual nature; sexually degrading words used to describe an individual; a display of sexually suggestive objects or images including electronically sent material; and sexually explicit jokes.

- Other Disruptive Behavior – While generally not prohibited by law, AAD/A nevertheless prohibits bullying behavior. AAD/A defines bullying as “repeated inappropriate behavior, either direct or indirect, whether verbal, physical, cyber or otherwise, conducted by one or more persons against another or others that is hurtful, harmful or humiliating; exhibits coercion; or abuse of power as well as any other unreasonably disruptive behavior such as sustained disruption of talks, events, or meetings.” All members and staff will be treated with dignity and respect and AAD/A will not tolerate bullying behavior.

- Bullying may be intentional or unintentional. AAD/A considers the following types of behavior examples of bullying:
  - Verbal bullying: Slandering, ridiculing or maligning a person or his/her family; persistent name calling that is hurtful, insulting or humiliating; using a person as the butt of jokes; abusive and offensive remarks.
  - Physical bullying: Pushing, shoving, kicking, poking, pinching, slapping, tripping, assault or threat of physical assault; damage to a person’s work area or property.
  - Gesture bullying: Nonverbal threatening gestures or glances that convey threatening messages.
  - Cyber: electronic or online harassment including social media.
  - Coercion: intimidation; using a position of authority for undue influence.

This includes, but is not limited to, graffiti, cartoons, websites, any social media platform, or radio or television programming;

• Conduct by registered attendee(s) or guests at any AAD/A meeting that is unlawful, in violation of the show rules or the convention center lease terms or convention hotel(s) policies/rules, in violation of/or is antithetical to the purposes and good order of the AAD/A event and its operation by AAD/A, such as, the use of an invalid or another’s name badge, failure to pay meeting registration.
