There may be no public market for investments in any issuer discussed herein and such issuers may not be traded on the capital markets. Therefore, investors should regard their investment as illiquid.

There can be no assurance that any targeted returns, results, diversification, capitalization or asset allocations will be met or that any issuer referenced herein will be able to implement its investment strategy and investment approach or achieve its investment objectives. Actual returns on investments will depend on, among other factors, future operating results, the value of the assets and market conditions at the time of disposition, legal and contractual restrictions on transfer that may limit liquidity, any related transaction costs and the timing and manner of sale.

Past performance should not be seen as an indication of future performance.
