- NIBC and expanded savings proposition increases choice and flexibility for clients
  - NIBC added 13.2bn, split evenly between demand and time deposits and c.35% in Germany and Belgium
- Excluding NIBC, deposits decreased by 2bn, mainly reflecting seasonal spending and migration into securities

Client assets [1)], €bn

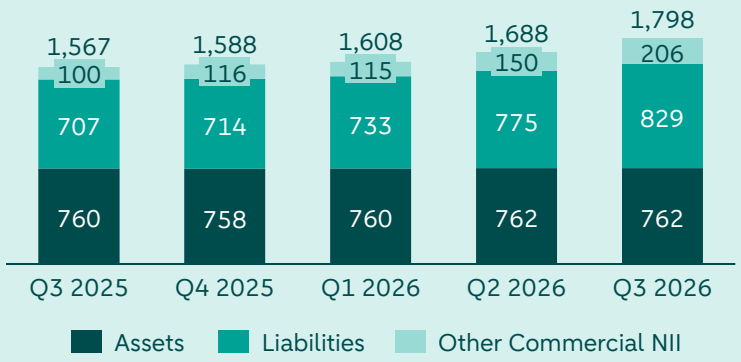

1) Excluding temporary end-of-quarter custody volumes at Q1 2026 (c.15bn, in client deposits and client assets) and Q3 2026 (c.7bn, in client assets)

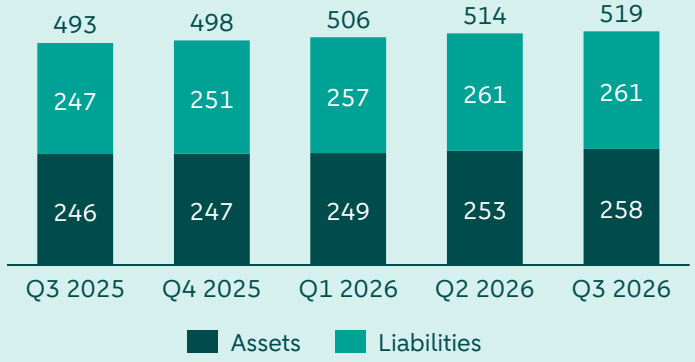

Improving deposit margins and NIBC drive commercial NII growth

- Higher replicating portfolio yields supported deposit margins, liability margin up 8bps Q-o-Q
- Mortgage and corporate loan growth benefitted commercial NII, partly offset by lower asset margins from higher share of state guaranteed, capital light mortgages in new production
- NIBC contributed 63m to other commercial NII
- FY2026 commercial NII guidance raised to above 6.9bn from 6.8bn, reflecting more favourable interest rate environment and continued strong Clearing NII

Average client volumes [2], €bn

Margin development [2]

1) Excluding positive incidental of 16m in other commercial NII in Q4 2025. 2) NII from loans and deposits to professional counterparties are excluded in both client asset and liability NII, volumes NIBC not included

Higher forward rates increase potential NII tailwinds through 2028

Current Accounts

- Future margin uplift reflects reinvestment of replicating portfolio based on end of October forward rates
- Assuming a constant c.50bn current account volume in replicating portfolio implies c.350m higher NII by 2028 vs. 2026

Saving Accounts

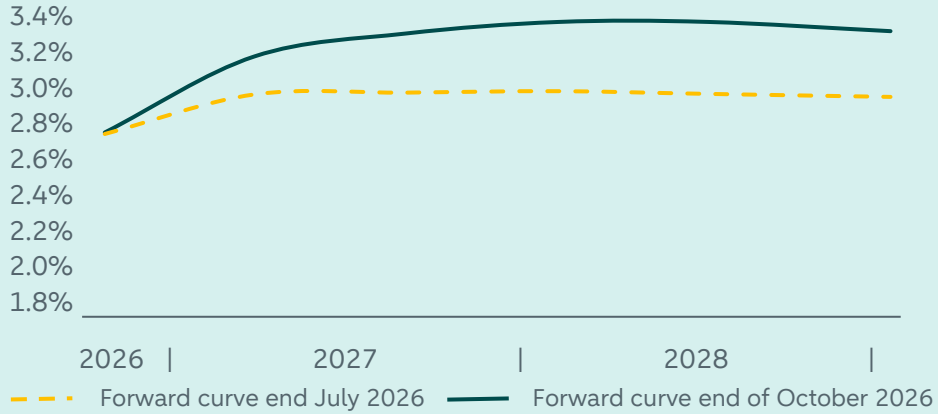

- Q3 savings margins above historical averages
- A 10bps variation in savings margin leads to c.125m change in NII per annum

Fee and commission income [1], €m

Underlying other income [2], €m

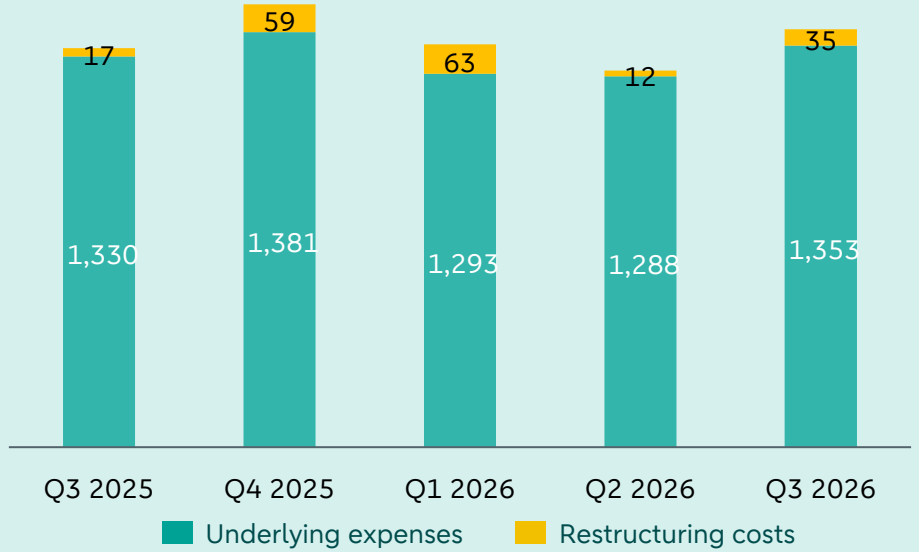

1) Total fee and commission income includes Group Functions. 2) Excluding NIBC badwill of c.85m in Q3 2026

Cost discipline supports FY2026 guidance of 5.5bn including NIBC

- Higher IT costs related to investments in growth for commercial activities, cybersecurity and AI
- FY2026 cost guidance unchanged at EUR 5.5bn [2] thanks to workforce reduction and simplifications
- 2027 starting run-rate will be higher due to the full NIBC cost base and ongoing IT investments

Underlying expenses and restructuring costs [1], €m

1) Excluding incidentals (Q3 2025: 55m, Q1 2026: -82m and Q3 2026: 11m) and regulatory levies (Q3 2025: 6m, Q4 2025: 135m, Q1 2026: 4m, Q3 2026: 6m). 2) Excluding incidentals and restructuring costs (YTD2026 39m net effect)

Resilient credit performance with 11m net impairment releases

- Credit quality remained sound, benefitting from NIBC's low-risk mortgage portfolio
- Portfolio quality supported by highly collateralised portfolio and robust Dutch economy
- Q3 Cost of Risk (CoR) of -2bps, bringing YTD CoR to 3bps
