

Benefiting from flexible employment practices in Mexico City

Francisco Robles Bolanos

POSITION:

QA Reviewer,
American Institute of Research

HOME BASE:

Mexico City

COMPANY HQ:

Arlington, Virginia

When Francisco (Frank) Robles Bolanos was ready for a new opportunity in quality assurance, he didn't limit his job search to his home country of Mexico. By keeping his options open, he was able to secure a position with the American Institute of Research (AIR), which hires many of its international workers through GEO.

Although AIR is based in the U.S., Frank was happy to learn that he still receives all the benefits he's entitled to by Mexican law. He also appreciates how streamlined the employment process has been, from onboarding to payroll, and notes that he hasn't had to reach out to his GEO point of contact even once since he's been hired.

"I am very happy. I would recommend GEO."
