

VOTE OUT THE RAPISTS

National Day of Action: November 2 ACTION TOOLKIT

The midterm elections are on November 3rd, and our country is in the middle of a sexual violence crisis. Women and girls are paying the price. Consent is on the ballot, and we are the cavalry we've been waiting for. It's up to us to vote out the rapists.

In the lead-up to Election Day, including November 2, the eve of the elections, we're mobilizing across the country in one final push to turn out women voters.

Women are the biggest voting bloc in our country. When we show up together, our votes can shift the tides, even in the reddest states. Let's make sure every woman, every Jane Doe, turns out to vote out the party of rapists.

Here's a quick overview of this toolkit

- ★ Visible Actions Before or On November 2
- ★ Help Get Your People to the Polls
- ★ Protect the Vote: Women Stand Watch
- ★ Spread the Word: The Power of the Women Vote

This toolkit offers ideas and resources to help you put that knowledge into action.

WOMEN'S MARCH

VISIBLE ACTIONS BEFORE OR ON NOVEMBER 2

You don't need a big crowd or a perfect plan. Gather a few friends and bring the message to your community: Vote Out the Rapists.

You know your community best. Choose what works locally, and make it happen.

Use these ideas as a starting point. Adapt them or bring your own.

Five ways to take action

1. Flyer your neighborhood: Grab a few friends and hand out flyers or stickers at a busy community spot. Start conversations, share the message, and remind people to vote. Download materials here.
2. Bring signs to a busy corner or overpass: Gather your crew with bold signs during rush hour. You don't need a stage or a sound system to get noticed.
3. Make a banner: Paint a big, bold "Vote Out the Rapists" banner and hold it somewhere people can see it. Read our banner-drop planning and safety guide.
4. Put the message in windows: Ask neighbors and local businesses to display posters in their windows. Turn your block into a visible call to vote.
5. Organize a pop-up rally: Pick a public gathering spot, invite your community, and bring signs and chants. Keep it simple. A small group can still make a big statement.

Choose one (or more!), make it your own, and bring your people.

Find or host a local action here.

Messaging Ideas:

- The G.O.P. is the Gang of Pedophiles
- Vote out the Rapists
- I'm a survivor and I vote
- Vote out the Party of Rapists
- Vote out the Gang of Pedophiles
- Release the Epstein Files

Risk looks different in every state, city, and town. Attend a safety training to prepare, and choose an action that makes sense for you and your crew.

The next safety training is on October 27 at 8pm ET.

WOMEN'S MARCH

HELP YOUR PEOPLE GET TO THE POLLS

Check in with 5–10 friends, family members, or neighbors. Ask about their voting plans and what might stand in the way. Then work together to find solutions.

- Help coordinate a ride: Offer a lift or connect people with someone who can.
- Share caregiving: Help arrange childcare or other caregiving support so people have time to vote.
- Work around work: Offer to swap shifts or help someone make a voting plan that fits their schedule.
- Ask about accessibility needs: Find out what support someone wants and help arrange it in advance.
- Share accurate information: Point people to official election sources for voting dates, polling locations, hours, and any ID requirements.

Want to meet and chat with other women doing this work? Join the Women's March community on Google Play or the App Store.

PROTECT THE VOTE: WOMEN STAND WATCH

Concerned about possible election interference where you live? Consider a peaceful gathering outside offices administering elections: Secretaries of State, Boards of Elections, Election Commissions, or local election offices. Bring folding chairs, signs, coffee, and donuts. Women are watching.

This action carries higher risk. Keep the energy calm and de-escalatory. Check local laws before gathering. Choose an administrative location where voting is not taking place, keep entrances clear, and never interfere with voters or election workers. Ground your concerns in verified information, not rumors.

Messaging ideas:

- Women Are Watching
- Count Every Vote
- Every Voter Deserves a Voice
- Our Votes. Our Voices.

HELP US SHOW THE WORLD THE POWER OF WOMEN VOTERS

Women carry this democracy on our backs, but our work is too often made invisible. We show up, bring our people, and keep each other going. Let's make that power impossible to ignore. Share your action, spread the word, and show the world what we're building together. Share your action and help spread the word.

- Hashtags:
 - #VoteOutTheRapists
 - #WomenAreWatching
 - #SurvivorsVote
- Graphics: Generic Election Day Canva Graphics
- Customizable Graphics: Nov 2 Day of Action Canva Template
- Downloadable Posters: Gang of Pedophiles
- Find or host a local action: action.womensmarch.com/local
- Want us to share your photos and videos? Upload them here.

SUGGESTED SOCIAL MEDIA POSTS

Women are rising up across the country to vote out the rapists. We are rising up because we are sick of it all. Sick of the cover-ups. Sick of the injustice. Sick of the ol' boys club. On Nov 2, #WomenAreWatching, and on Nov 3, we will #VoteOutTheRapists

Women are sick of rapists and predators running our country, and on Nov 3 we're taking our rage to the polls. We won't obey. We will rise up. Join me to #VoteOutTheRapists

