Take payments anywhere, any way you want.

Whether you’re selling in person or online, take all kinds of payments quickly and securely with a variety of hardware and software.

Security you can trust at no extra cost.

Square is the merchant of record for every transaction, taking on the financial liability so you avoid compliance headaches. They deal with the bank for payment disputes and monitor constantly for suspicious activity.

Get paid fast every time.

You see your money in your bank account as soon as the next business day. Keep an eye on your cash flow with real-time updates about your sales and inventory.

Pay the same rate for every card with transparent pricing.

There’s no guessing with every transaction. What you see is what you pay, period. Never deal with weird fees or different rates for different credit cards.

Plus, get meaningful customer support to help you succeed.
