

QF's 'Education City Speaker Series' to Explore Healthcare Technology with Medical Innovator Roni Zeiger

US physician Roni Zeiger, former Chief Health Strategist at Google, is set share his perspectives and experiences at Qatar Foundation's (QF) new 'Education City Speaker Series' on Tuesday, November 13, from 4-5pm, in a talk titled 'How Technology is Changing Healthcare'.

The talk, being held at Qatar National Library in Education City, will focus on the way healthcare is being shaped and transformed by technology. A Q&A will follow.

Launched by QF as a platform for Qatar's wider community to learn from and engage with, experts and thought-leaders from a range of fields, the 'Education City Speaker Series' aims to create a new avenue for dialogue and discourse, where those attending can add their voices to the global conversation on topics and themes central to our world today.
