2. PERSONAL DATA WE COLLECT AND HOW WE USE IT

We collect and use personal data for a number of purposes, including to provide and continuously improve our products and services, such as increasing the range and reliability of Rivian vehicles and identifying opportunities to make your journey even safer. The information we collect, and how that information is used, depends on how you interact with us, the products or services you use, and the choices you make. This data also depends on the type of relationship we have with you (e.g., consumer or customer).

We may collect personal data about you from different sources and in various ways, including:

- Directly from you. Through your relationship with us, such as when you provide data to us directly on the Site, via email, or through your online or offline/in-person interactions with us.
- Indirectly from you. From your use of our products, services, mobile applications, or software.

- From third-party sources. From our service providers, public agencies (e.g., the DMV), relevant parties (e.g., your bank or insurance company), and public sources, including public forums and social media or networking sites.

When we use data to improve and develop features, products, and services, we take steps to minimize the data collected and apply privacy-enhancing techniques, such as de-identification or pseudonymization, so the data is not directly associated with you or your vehicle. Where we conduct such activities on an identifiable basis, we do so with your consent, consistent with reasonable consumer expectations, or where there are compelling and legitimate interests for such processing (e.g., improving vehicle or public safety). This approach to product improvement and development applies across all of our products and services.

We do not “sell” personal data or personal information, as this term is defined by applicable privacy regulations. We do “share” personal information as defined by Cal. Civ. Code § 1798.140(ah) with third-party advertisers, as explained in Section 10 (“California Privacy Rights”) below.

We describe the personal data we collect, how we use it, and the privacy choices available to you for each of our major products or services below.

When you enable data sharing from the interior camera, images of the vehicle cabin and data derived from these images will be shared with Rivian to improve and develop vehicle safety systems, including machine-learning models and the driver monitoring system, which can help detect driver distraction and drowsiness. Images will be occasionally captured based on certain triggers, such as the driver's head or eye movements or at specific time intervals. These images will be processed inside the vehicle, to help define and improve these triggers, and shared with Rivian when you've opted into sharing interior camera images. To protect your privacy, we:

- Do not associate these images with you or your vehicle for product improvement or development.
- Collect images only while your vehicle is in Drive (not while in Park).
- Analyze or use interior camera data on a de-identified or pseudonymized basis only, except: (i) where you have requested our review (e.g., for service or support) or provided your consent; or (ii) to comply with a legal obligation, such as regulatory reporting or litigation.

See "Your Privacy Choices" below for information on how to enable or disable data sharing from the interior camera.

Some vehicles built before model year 2025 have an interior camera that was disabled with an OTA software update. Interior cameras in these vehicles remain inactive and the option for interior camera data sharing will not appear in the "Data and Privacy" screen of the vehicle's Settings menu.

- Exterior vehicle camera and sensor information, such as images of the driving environment to capture road markings and signage

The vehicle's exterior cameras can capture images from your drives which allow Rivian to improve Driver+ safety features like Highway Assist and Automatic Emergency Braking. You can control whether images are shared with Rivian for product improvement purposes. To protect your privacy, we:

- Do not associate these images with you or your vehicle for product improvement or development.
- Blur faces and license plates before use.
- Do not use the first and last three minutes of your drive to protect privacy at your home, work, and other starting or ending locations.
- Associate precise location with the images only if you have agreed to location data sharing for Driver+. This allows us to understand and diagnose Driver+ issues that can occur at a particular location, based on road segment features such as lane markings or signage.

See "Your Privacy Choices" below for information on how to enable or disable data sharing from the exterior camera.

Your Privacy Choices

You may have choices regarding the collection and use of certain data associated with your vehicle, such as those described below. These privacy choices will apply to all drivers of your vehicle. Because of this, we rely on you to inform anyone else driving your Rivian vehicle of this Notice and the privacy choices you have made. If you are (or work for or on behalf of) a commercial customer, your choices may be governed by the contract executed between Rivian and that company or organization, as permitted by applicable law.

- Interior Camera. Vehicles built for model year 2025 and onward are equipped with an interior camera in the rearview mirror. If you choose to enable data sharing from the interior camera, images of the vehicle cabin and data derived from these images will be shared with Rivian to improve and develop vehicle safety systems, including machine-learning models and the driver monitoring system, which can help detect driver distraction and drowsiness. You may exercise this choice using the toggle in the vehicle’s “Data and Privacy” page. Toggling off this data sharing will not affect Driver+ functionality.

Some vehicles built before model year 2025 have an interior camera that was disabled with an OTA software update. Interior cameras in these vehicles remain inactive and the option for interior camera data sharing will not appear in the “Data and Privacy” screen of the vehicle’s Settings menu.

If you choose to install your own cameras or similar driver monitoring devices, we are not responsible for this data collection or processing.

- Exterior Cameras. The vehicle’s exterior cameras can capture images, as described below.
  - Gear Guard. You may choose to capture images through the exterior cameras located on the vehicle while driving, during an incident or other triggering events, such as the use of the horn or hazard lights, or while the vehicle is parked or stationary. You control the collection and use of these images, which may be stored in the vehicle’s internal memory or on an external storage device that you provide, and we do not access or process these images without your consent.

- Product Improvement. You may choose whether images are shared with Rivian to improve Driver+ safety features like Highway Assist and Automatic Emergency Braking. If you toggle off the privacy control for sharing these images, the exterior cameras will process images solely in the vehicle to provide these Driver+ safety features. You may exercise this choice using the toggle in the vehicle’s “Data and Privacy” page. Toggling off this data sharing will not affect Driver+ functionality.
- Crash. Exterior images will be shared with Rivian automatically in the event of a crash and associated with your VIN regardless of your choices above to enable crash investigation and regulatory reporting.
- Precise Location. You may choose to stop sharing your precise location data with Rivian and our service providers for navigation, Highway Assist, the Rivian Mobile App, Alexa, and data analytics purposes. If you turn off this sharing, certain functionality may be limited or disabled. Note: Your precise location will still be shared with us for critical safety purposes, such as eCall/SOS and for incidents. Your general location, about a 7-mile radius, will still be shared with us regardless of your in-vehicle precise location settings. Additional information may be found in the “Data and Privacy” screen of the vehicle’s Settings menu.
- Third-Party Vehicle Apps. You may choose whether to use third-party applications in the vehicle (e.g., Spotify, Alexa) and thus whether these apps collect personal data from you. We recommend you review the terms and conditions, privacy policies, and settings for any third-party app or service to which you subscribe to and/or use in your Rivian vehicle. A third party may ask you to grant certain permissions, for example, information about the vehicle’s location. If you choose to use these third-party apps, we are not responsible for the data you share, which is subject to the third party’s privacy policies.
- Vehicle Connectivity. Vehicle connectivity is a core feature of Rivian vehicles and allows us to deliver many of the amazing features in the vehicle, such as navigation using real-time data, key safety features such as lane keeping assistance, and remote diagnostics. Vehicle connectivity also allows us to continually improve your driving experience through remote service and support and over-the-air updates, which provide new features, better performance, safety enhancements, and bug fixes. You may, however, choose to disable all cellular connectivity of the vehicle. For Canadian vehicles, you may exercise this choice using the toggle in the vehicle’s “Data and Privacy” page. For non-Canadian vehicles, you may reach out to Rivian Service to request that we disable the eSIM card in the vehicle through a service appointment. Note that disabling all vehicle connectivity will limit vehicle features and advantages.
- Vehicle Resale. If you sell your Rivian vehicle, you are responsible for deleting any information saved on the vehicle (e.g., recent destinations in the vehicle’s Navigation system, Gear Guard videos) prior to making the vehicle available to the new owner and notifying us of the sale. You may do so using the “Clear Settings” feature in the vehicle. If you do not delete this information, it may be visible to the new owner. You may also remove the vehicle from your account using the Rivian Mobile App. Please see additional information here. If you buy a Rivian vehicle from a party other than Rivian, you should ensure that the seller removes the vehicle from their account using the Rivian Mobile App and notifies Rivian of the sale so that the seller’s vehicle access is removed. You are also responsible for submitting the required paperwork to Rivian so that we may verify the authenticity of the transaction and complete the ownership transfer process. Please see additional guidance on private party transactions here.

When we detect such a signal, we will make reasonable efforts to respect your choices indicated by a GPC setting.

3. LEGAL GROUNDS FOR PROCESSING OF YOUR PERSONAL DATA

Rivian uses, retains and otherwise processes personal data that is subject to this Notice for different purposes, dependent on the specific use-case, as described in Section 1 (“Scope of this Notice”). These purposes include where you have provided consent, where such processing is necessary for the performance of a contract that we have with you, to comply with our legal obligations, or for our legitimate business interests. We process personal data only to the extent that we are legally permitted to do so.

Rivian will typically collect and use the personal data it collects from you based on the following legal grounds:

- Consent. You have given consent to the processing of your personal data for one or more specific purposes, e.g., to identify the vehicle or driver location using the vehicle GPS, to use certain ADAS features designed for driver and pedestrian safety which must process sensitive personal data to work properly, to record (support) phone calls.
- Performance of a Contract. The processing is necessary for the performance of a contract or to take steps to enter into a contract with you, e.g., providing a vehicle warranty or vehicle repair services.
- Compliance with our Legal Obligations. The processing is necessary for compliance with our legal obligations, e.g., to respond to a valid legal demand, providing the minimal information and only as required by applicable law, court order, governmental regulations; comply with statutory obligations for record keeping; for mandatory incident or other governmental reporting.
- Legitimate Interests. The processing is necessary for the purposes of our legitimate interests or for the purposes of the legitimate interests of a third party which are not overridden by your interests or fundamental rights and freedoms which require protection of personal data. We may, for example, have a legitimate interest to improve our ADAS driving features, the infotainment systems, or other features of our vehicles and our software. We may also have a legitimate interest to communicate with specific drivers of vehicles under our customer’s control. We may also have a legitimate interest to investigate a crash, near miss, or defect allegation. We may also have a legitimate interest to help our customers locating their vehicles (e.g., in case of theft or misuse of vehicles) or to present driver behavior and usage data as well as operation and performance data to help our customers comply with applicable laws (such as road traffic regulations).

Where Rivian processes information relating to special categories of personal data requiring higher levels of protection, the processing of such special categories of personal data will typically take place only if you have given explicit consent to the processing of such data for one or more specified purposes.

4. OUR DISCLOSURE OF YOUR PERSONAL DATA

We disclose personal data to our affiliates and with the categories of third parties set forth below for legitimate business purposes, which also includes when you direct us to disclose it to others, or as necessary to complete your transactions or provide the products or services you have requested or authorized.

The contract or other agreement we execute with our service providers describes the purpose and requires the service provider to keep that personal data confidential consistent with this Notice.

For further information, please see Section 10 ("California Privacy Rights").
  - Business Partners and Other Authorized Parties. With parties where you have elected to receive a service from them, authorized them to receive data from Rivian, or directed us to disclose your personal data to them. For example, you may direct us to disclose certain vehicle information to a vehicle usage-based insurance provider for your insurance purposes, or to disclose your personal data to an electric utility or charging installer in connection with your Rivian product or service. We may also disclose your information to repair and collision shops and insurance companies to allow us or an authorized party to service, maintain and repair the vehicle. We do not disclose individual consumer driving and charging activity to Amazon. We do not participate in third-party telemetry exchanges.
  - Law Enforcement. We may disclose your personal data when legally required or when we deem advisable to do so, such as in response to a valid legal demand, providing the minimal information and only as required by applicable law, court order, governmental regulations. In addition, we may disclose your personal data if we believe disclosure is necessary or appropriate to protect the rights, property, or safety of others or Rivian.

- Government Agencies and Non-Profit Verifiers. Rivian may also participate in voluntary or required federal, state, local, or utility incentive or credit programs related to environmental goals or accelerating transportation electrification. The terms of some programs may require disclosing vehicle data and charging information, which could include the vehicle identification number (VIN) and where the vehicle was charged. Additionally, Rivian is required to report certain personal information when you purchase a vehicle, including your social security number (for U.S. purchasers), to the Internal Revenue Service for the U.S. government's processing of vehicle tax credits. Note: you can choose to not provide your SSN, but you will not be able to claim an EV tax credit, even if you would otherwise qualify.
- Corporate Transactions. In connection with, during, or upon completion of a merger, acquisition, asset sale, or other business transaction that involves some, or all, of Rivian's assets, data you have provided to Rivian may be transferred to a third party such as a successor or purchaser as part of a transaction.

We may also disclose your personal information to other third parties if you authorize us to do so as well as reasonably de-identified information in accordance with applicable law without restriction for legitimate business purposes.

5. DATA RETENTION

Except as otherwise permitted or required by applicable law or regulation, we will retain your personal data only as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes we collected it for, as required to satisfy any legal, accounting, or reporting requirements, as necessary to resolve disputes, or as otherwise requested by you. In some cases, we may only process the personal data and do not store or retain it.

To determine the appropriate retention period for personal data, we consider our legal obligations, the amount, nature, and sensitivity of the personal data, the potential risk of harm from unauthorized use or disclosure of your personal data, the purposes for which we process your personal data, and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means. This duration varies based on data type and use, but we have recorded the durations in our internal records and information management policy and schedule.

Under some circumstances we may anonymize or reasonably de-identify your personal data so that it can no longer be reasonably associated with or used to identify you. We reserve the right to retain and use such information for any legitimate business purpose without further notice to you or your consent, unless required by law.

6. DATA SECURITY

We have in place appropriate security measures intended to prevent your personal data from being accidentally lost or used or accessed in an unauthorized way, including encryption of this information in transit and at rest and the implementation of controls designed to limit access to your personal data to those Rivian personnel who have a genuine business need to know it. Those Rivian personnel who process your personal data are required to do so only in an authorized manner and are subject to confidentiality.

Despite our implementation of these measures, posting or transmission of personal data via the internet, by email, or by other electronic means is not completely secure and it is possible that third parties may unlawfully intercept or access such data. We cannot guarantee that personal data will be totally secure.

We have procedures in place to deal with any suspected data security breach. We will notify you and/or any applicable regulator of a suspected data security breach where we are legally required to do so in accordance with any legally prescribed timeframes.

7. INTERNATIONAL DATA TRANSFERS

Rivian is based in the United States, and as such your personal data may be processed in the United States. We may transfer your personal data or store it internationally, including to or in countries that do not have data protection laws equivalent to those in the country where you reside or where your personal data is collected, for the purposes described above.

- For transfers from the European Economic Area (“EEA”) Member States or UK to countries for which the European Union (“EU”) Commission or the United Kingdom (“UK”) Information Commissioner’s Office has issued an adequacy decision saying the level of data protection is equivalent to the level within the EU or UK, we can rely on those adequacy decisions; this applies, for example, for data transfers between the UK and EEA Member States.
- For transfers from the EEA or UK to countries without an adequacy decision, Rivian has implemented appropriate safeguards to provide the necessary level of data protection, primarily by entering into appropriate data transfer arrangements based on approved standard contractual clauses.
- Personal data about Canadians or that is collected in Canada may be transferred or stored outside of Canada, including to/in the United States, the United Kingdom, the European Union, and Serbia, and may be subject to the laws and accessible to the courts, law enforcement and national security authorities of such jurisdictions. Please contact our Canadian Privacy Office and Quebec Privacy Officer as listed in Section 12 (“Contact Us”) below if you wish to ask a question or obtain written information about our policies and practices with respect to service providers and other members of the Rivian group of entities outside of Canada who may process or store personal data.

By using the Site, the App, the vehicle, and our products and services, or by otherwise providing us with your personal data, you agree to the collection, transfer, storage, and other processing of your personal data to countries outside of your country of residence. Personal data transferred or stored internationally will be subject to the laws of the jurisdiction(s) where it is transferred or stored, and may be accessible to foreign courts, law enforcement, and national security authorities in those jurisdiction(s).

- Email and Telephone Communications. If you receive an unwanted email from us, you can use the link found at the bottom of the email to stop receiving future emails. Note that you will continue to receive transaction-related emails regarding products or services you have requested. We may also send you certain non-promotional communications regarding us and our services, and you will not be able to opt out of those communications (e.g., communications regarding our services or updates to our Terms or this Notice). We process requests to be placed on do-not-mail, do-not-phone, and do-not-contact lists as required by applicable law.

- Text/SMS Messages. You may opt out of receiving text messages from us by following the instructions in the text message you have received from us or by contacting us. Based on the legal requirements applicable to your jurisdiction, and subject to any legal restrictions or exceptions, you may have the choices and rights described below.

- Correction/Rectification. Request that we correct any inaccurate personal data relating to you without undue delay. In this context, taking into account the purposes of the processing, you may also have the right to request the completion of incomplete personal data - also by means of a supplementary declaration. - Object to Processing. Object, on grounds relating to your particular situation, to our processing of personal data concerning you which is (i) necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest, (ii) carried out in the exercise of official authority vested in us, or (iii) processed by us on the basis of our legitimate interest. In this case, where applicable, we will no longer process the personal data unless we can demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override your interests, rights and freedoms, or the processing serves to assert, exercise, or defend legal claims.

- Consent Withdrawal. Withdraw your consent that you have previously provided for Rivian’s collection, use or disclosure of your personal data, subject to reasonable notice and any contractual or legal exceptions. Note that this will not affect the lawfulness of our processing of your personal data based on consent before its withdrawal.
- Automated Individual Decision-Making. Not be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing, including profiling, which produces legal effects concerning you or similarly significantly affects you. Note that this right shall not apply if such a decision is necessary as part of a contract we have with or want to conclude with you, we have your consent, or we are permitted by law to engage in such automated decision making. In these cases, we will implement measures to safeguard your rights and freedoms and legitimate interests and you may contest the decision by contacting us as set forth in Section 12 (“Contact Us”) below.
- Complaints. Lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority at any time if you are of the opinion that the processing of personal data relating to you violates applicable law.
  - If you are located in the EU or UK, you can lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority in particular in the Member State of your place of residence, your place of work or the place of the alleged infringement. Outside these three provinces, you may lodge a complaint with the Office of the Privacy Commissioner of Canada.

To exercise the above privacy rights, please visit our Privacy Rights Request form.

We will acknowledge and coordinate these requests as timely as possible. Initially, we will respond to and fulfill any such requests within one month or in accordance with applicable laws, which may be slightly longer (e.g., 45 days for California). In case we cannot comply with a request or cannot fulfill a request within that timeframe, we will generally provide you with the reason for this. We may request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and your rights. Applicable laws may allow or require us to refuse to provide you with access to some or all of the personal data that we hold about you, or we may have destroyed, erased, or made your personal data anonymous in accordance with our record retention obligations and practices. If we cannot provide you with access to your personal data, we will generally inform you of the reasons why, subject to any legal or regulatory restrictions. We will not discriminate against you for exercising any of your privacy rights.
