

Sharpie DIY Succulent Pot

A Sharpie permanent marker is just the thing with our easy DIY Succulent Planters. A fast, fun way to add bright colour and artful design to complement the plants' soothing greens.

What you need:

- Plain white cement, porcelain or ceramic succulent planters
- Succulent plants that fit the planter size you selected with room to grow
- Potted plant soil
- Sharpie Fine Permanent

STEP 1 – Plan out some simple hand-drawn designs using dots, slanted lines, triangles, or circular swirls...you name it.

STEP 2 – Use painter's or washi tape as a straight – line guide for linear patterns.

STEP 3 – Draw your customized designs on the planters with various Sharpie markers. Match bold black with bright, eye-popping colours for dramatic contrast. Go crazy with colour—the planters are your personal canvas.

STEP 4 – Set aside for a few minutes to dry.

STEP 5 – Plant your succulents with potted soil, and water according to the plant instructions. Sit back and admire your work.

STEP 6 – Place the succulents around your home where you'll see and enjoy them every day. If not near windows, simply set your succulents outdoors from time to time for a dose of direct sun.

Tip:

- Create patterns around the base and top rim of the planters leaving some white space in the middle
