

The Junkyard Tales Audio Advent Calendar Day 25. The Warden is so important to the animals that when he finally returns to the Junkyard, they all want to jump out of hiding and wish him a Merry Christmas – but they can't. They aren't supposed to show themselves – it is a rule. But Christmas magic brings a solution that leaves all the animals marveling and feeling deeply grateful.

The Warden is going to have a very different Christmas than he first thought. I wonder what Christmas morning looked like in his house when the children discovered their gifts. What does Christmas morning look like in your house?
