Watermelon Slushies

(makes about 7 cups)

Ingredients

6 cups seedless watermelon cubes (about the amount you'll get from one small seedless watermelon)

2 cups ice

1 tablespoon simple syrup, sugar, or honey (optional)

Directions

Put the watermelon cubes into a large bowl or the pitcher of a blender. Puree—in the blender or with a stick blender—until the cubes are completely liquified.

If you started with 6 cups of cubes, you should now have about 4 cups of puree. However much puree you have, add half as much ice (so, if you have 4 cups of puree, add 2 cups of ice) and continue to blend until the mixture resembles slush.

Sample a spoonful. If it's sweet enough, you're good to go, but feel free to add simple syrup, sugar, or honey as needed. Serve in tall glasses with straws and spoons.

Enjoy!
