

This image shows a blank sheet of white paper with horizontal brown lines. On the left side, there is a vertical column of ten empty circles, each aligned with one of the horizontal lines. The circles are intended for students to write their names or initials.

