Beginning October 1, surveillance testing will be required on a monthly basis for any unvaccinated individuals for the remainder of the academic year. Testing can be completed on campus or results from an off campus facility will be accepted. Only PCR tests will be accepted. Students and employees required to test will be charged the full amount of the price of that test, currently $40 per month.

Those who have received the first dose of a vaccination by October 1 will be exempt from the monthly fee with the expectation they will continue the process to be considered fully vaccinated. Other exceptions may include medical or religious reasons. To pursue an exception, contact Kim Robare.
