Indicators Used

INDICATOR	DESCRIPTION AND HOW IT WAS CALCULATED
Graduation Rate (Undergraduate program)	Graduation rate is defined as the percentage of a school's first-time undergraduate students who complete their program within 150% of the published time for the program. For the undergraduate, four-year degree program, entering students (first time full time) who complete within six years are counted as graduates. Note: Graduation rates are provided for <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a) Students that declared their major in a specific program by their sophomore year and graduated in that program. b) Students who declared their major in a specific program and graduated in another program within the school of business c) Students who declared their major in a specific program and graduated in any LEC major. Note: For undergraduate graduation rates, data are provided for full-time incoming students from Fall 2014 who graduated by Spring 2020 in order to include all students that graduated within 4-6 years of entering.
Graduation Rate (Graduate Program)	Graduation rate is defined as the percentage of a school's first-time undergraduate students who complete their program within 150% of the published time for the program. For the graduate, two-year degree program, entering students who complete within three years are counted as graduates. Note: For graduate graduation rates, data are provided for full-time incoming students from 2017 in order to include all students that graduated within 2-3 years of entering.

* Due to the recency of the establishment of the HR Management Program at the time of the incoming students starting year, the number of students entering the program were relatively low which affected the graduation rates.

 This program had no students graduating from this cohort.
