

Maximize seller productivity with better agreement processes

While technology has made it easier for today's sales professionals to reach more prospects, they still face a growing list of challenges that make it harder to interact with clients and close deals. Sellers should be selling, but they're often mired in agreement inefficiencies and administrative burdens that severely limit their productivity—frustrating customers and negatively impacting the bottom line.

For sales teams looking to boost their productivity and value capture, the agreement process is ripe for transformation that delivers an immediate impact. Intelligent agreement management (IAM) is a new category of AI-powered cloud software that helps streamline and automate go-to-market agreement processes while unlocking the power of valuable data trapped in traditional files. Docusign IAM for Sales modernizes and simplifies how agreements are drafted, negotiated, and executed. Static documents become data-rich assets—empowering sellers to:

Boost seller productivity and deal velocity

Automatically generate signature-ready agreements using pre-approved templates and data from Salesforce, improving collaboration by reducing compliance issues and review cycles.

Make smarter decisions
