

DocuSign AI Extension for CLM

Dramatically improve contract intelligence with native AI capabilities

The majority of CLM users want AI embedded in their contract lifecycle management solutions, but AI usage remains low due to adoption barriers. The DocuSign AI Extension for CLM allows you to work smarter and faster—with natively integrated, fast-to-deploy AI that is accurate, scalable and trusted.

Improve contract discoverability and accelerate contract review with AI-generated agreement summaries and extracted values for key contract terms and dates. Get instant answers to questions about renewal terms, contract value, contract type, payment terms, party names, indemnity, termination clauses and much more. Ensure changes made throughout negotiation are surfaced during review and the right terms are saved in CLM once the agreement is executed. Whether an agreement is created in CLM or uploaded as a PDF, AI can search the copy, parse the details and report on performance. Rely on accurate AI, built on a private and secure platform with low-configuration requirements.

Accelerate agreement outcomes with DocuSign CLM's AI-powered capabilities:

Data extraction

Search digital agreements and PDFs to get instant answers to critical business questions with the help of AI, including:

- Which agreements are set to automatically renew?
- When is payment due?
- Which agreements expire at the end of the quarter?
- What is the renewal notice period for contracts approaching renewal?
- What is the most recent agreement on file with a certain party?
- Which agreements have nonstandard payment terms?

Summarization

Instantly give reviewers and approvers an AI-generated snapshot of agreement content. Whether contextualizing copy during an ongoing negotiation or refreshing someone's memory of an existing agreement, AI Summarization helps teams make faster decisions and get to their desired business results sooner.

“Two-thirds of users who adopt AI report contract lifestyle time savings as a major benefit.”

Smart uploads

Does your team have a library of existing agreements that need to be uploaded to your CLM so they can be searched and analyzed? Our AI Extension can ingest PDFs of agreements and automatically extract key data points to answer critical business questions and fuel search and discovery. Best of all, it doesn't require extra help from a third-party service.
