

Elevate Tribal Member Services with Digital Workflows

Providing critical services to members is vital for tribal nations, from enhancing community engagement to prioritizing cultural revitalization and promoting economic opportunities.

Tribal nations need to modernize and digitize the processes and workflows that support the efficient delivery of member services. These important services keep organizations operating safely and advance and ensure quality of life. For decades, tribal nations have often relied on cumbersome PDF and paper agreements, contracts, and forms—whether it's contracts at hotels and casinos, seasonal employee agreements, telehealth/healthcare, overall purchasing, or tribal council agendas.

Fortunately, DocuSign solutions make it easy to adopt digital workflows that better meet employee and member needs. By eliminating manual and redundant tasks, DocuSign helps tribal nations fully embrace digital transformation and all its modern conveniences.
