

Agency End User Terms and Conditions for the GoCardless Bank Account Data Service

1. What are these terms and who do they apply to?

- 1.1 These terms (Terms) apply to you (you, your or End User) when you use the Bank Account Data Service (Service) which allows access to and aggregation of account information from your payment accounts with financial institutions in accordance with your instructions, as provided by GoCardless Limited (GoCardless, we, us, our). Every time you use the Service you must agree to the Terms in force at that time, so please make sure you read them carefully each time. If you do not agree to these Terms, you must not use the Service.

2. What is the Service?

- 2.1 The Service is an account information service which enables you to access, view and/or share information from your payment accounts (Account Information), and is part of the GoCardless Bank Account Data product. The Account Information accessed by GoCardless is provided, with your explicit consent: (i) to you directly; and/or (ii) as instructed by you, through a platform (website or application) to our registered agent (Agent) that consolidates and presents your Account Information in order to provide a service to you (Agent's Service).

3. How does the Service work?

- 3.1 When you use the Agent's website, platform or application, you will be required to provide your explicit consent to the Agent so they can access your Account Information via GoCardless to provide you with the Agent's Service. You will agree to the Agent's terms and conditions and will have a separate legal relationship with the Agent.
- 3.2 The Agent will redirect you to GoCardless' website and/or GoCardless' app, where you will be able to access the Service.
- 3.3 In order to use the Service you will be asked to provide your explicit consent for GoCardless to carry out the Service.
- 3.4 We will also display the details of the Account Information you wish to share with us and your Agent.
- 3.5 You will then be redirected to your account servicing payment service provider (for example your bank or another financial institution with which you have a payment account)(Bank) who will authenticate you by asking you to provide your payment account login and security details (the Security Details). Once your Bank has authenticated you, we will be able to access your Account Information as per your instructions. You will then be redirected to GoCardless' website or application, and we will confirm that the set up of the Service has been successful, and display a summary of the Account Information which has been accessed.
- 3.6 Depending on the Agent's Service, or the Service we are providing, repeated retrieval of Account Information (over a period of time) may be required. Any repeated retrieval is usually restricted to four times in any 24 hour period, but may be exceeded if more frequent access is agreed.
- 3.7 You may be required to re-authenticate yourself with your Bank, or provide your consent again for the Agent and us to continue providing the Service. You will be asked to provide us with your consent every 90 days.
- 3.8 GoCardless does not guarantee the availability and quality of any elements of the Service that are outside of our control, including but not limited to the contents of your Account Information, availability of Account Information and other elements which are under your Bank's control.
- 3.9 You acknowledge that provision of the Service is dependent on: (i) the Bank providing access to your Account Information, as per Clause 3.5 above; and (ii) the validity of your consent to access the Account Information. If your consent is revoked or lapses, your access to the Service will be disabled. If you wish to enable the Service you will need to provide your consent and authenticate yourself with your Bank.

4. What is the Account Information and how will GoCardless use, access and store it?

4.1 The Account Information used, accessed and stored by GoCardless in providing the Service to you may include your name, account sort code, account number, account balance, and outgoing and incoming transactions including transaction history within the agreed transaction term of any accounts you hold with your Bank, as directed by you. As part of the Service, GoCardless may use some of the Account Information in other ways, for example, to help prevent the fraudulent use of your payment accounts or for analytics, product enhancement and development purposes which enable us to provide you with improved products and services. For more information on how we process your personal data, please visit our Privacy Notice.

4.2 When you agree to use the Service, you are:

(i) Instructing GoCardless to access your Account Information.

(ii) Giving your explicit consent for the Account Information to be used, accessed and stored by GoCardless for the purposes of providing the Service and as set out in these Terms.

(iii) Giving your explicit consent for the Account Information to be shared by GoCardless with the Agent as instructed by you.

4.3 You acknowledge that once GoCardless shares your Account Information with the Agent, the Agent will provide you with the Agent's Service in accordance with the Agent's terms and conditions. The consolidation and representation of the Account Information will be provided to you by the Agent via their website, platform and/or application.

4.4 We will not share any of the Account Information with any other third party. We will never ask you to share your Security Details with us, and neither GoCardless nor the Agent will be able to see or access your Security Details at any time. We will ensure that your Security Details are not accessible to other parties (other than your Bank or any other third party who issued you with your Security Details). Your Bank will bear the responsibility and liability of ensuring that its own interface protects your Security Details.

4.5 Your Bank will only provide us with the Account Information requested after you have given them your Security Details and successfully authenticated yourself.

4.6 We are not responsible for any harm, damage or loss to you arising from, or relating to hacking, tampering or unauthorised access to your Account Information that is not within our reasonable control.
