

Community Based Renewable Energy

Request for Offer

Stasia Brownell

November 22, 2024

Community Based Renewable Energy (CBRE)

Request for Offer (RFO)

Renewable Energy

Small-scale (<20 MW in aggregate), interconnected to transmission or distribution system

Dispatchable Capacity

Paired with a dispatchable capacity product (either co-located or virtually paired).

Community Benefit

Provides a direct benefit to a particular community through a community-benefits agreement or direct ownership.

AGENDA

CBRE Website

How to Submit a Bid

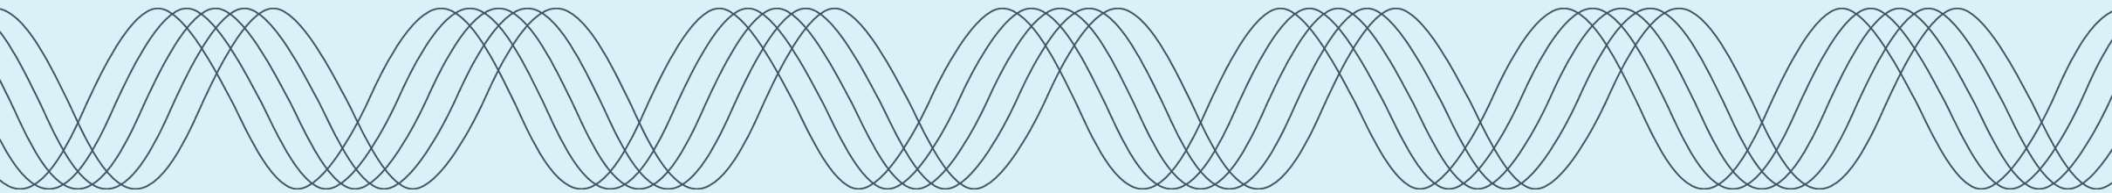

Timeline Review

Networking Opportunity

Q & A Process

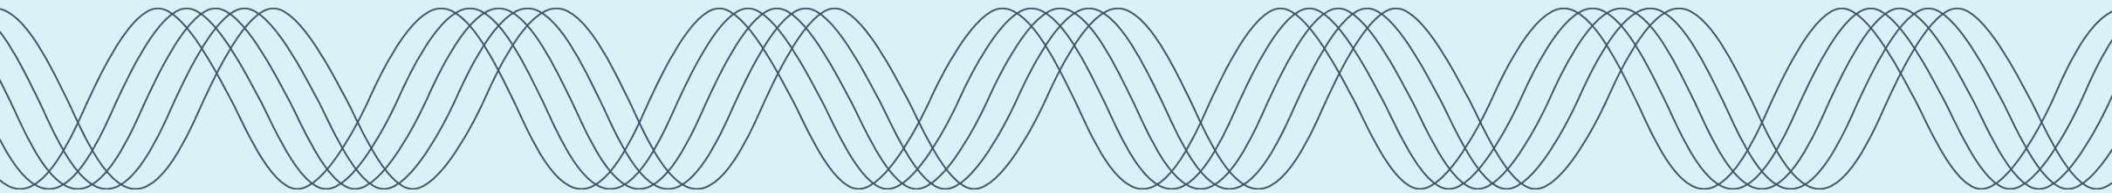

CBRE Website

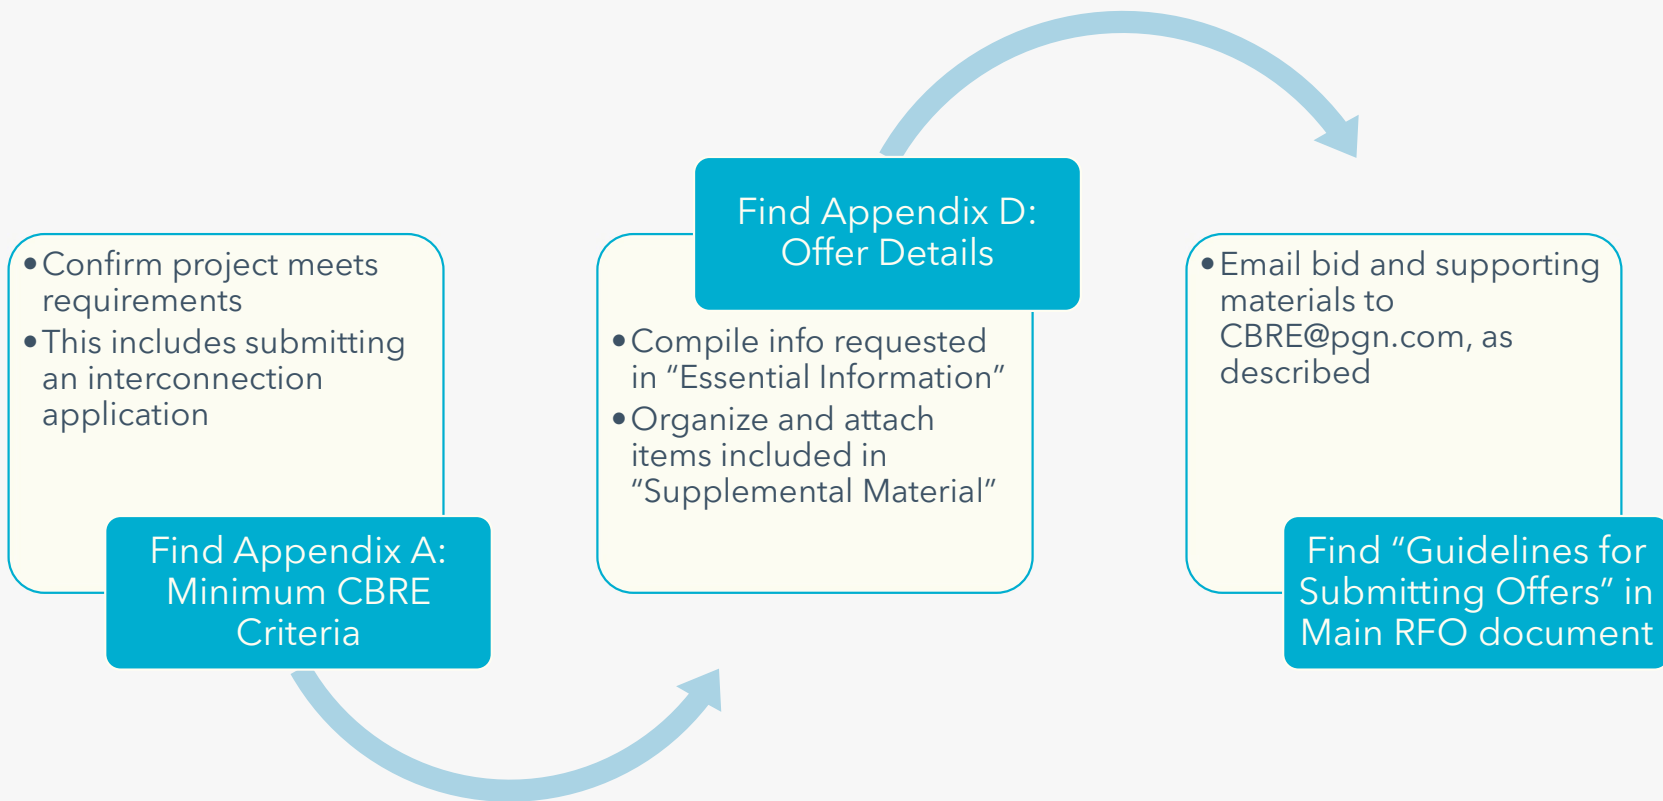

How to Submit a Bid

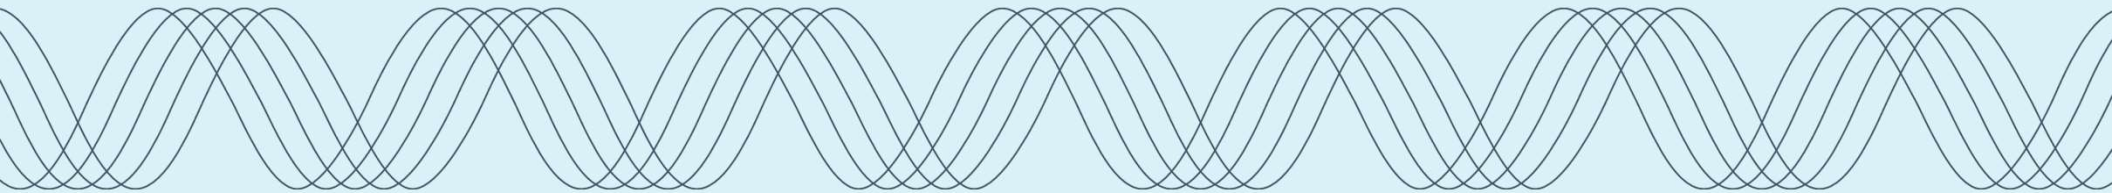

Steps to Submit a Bid

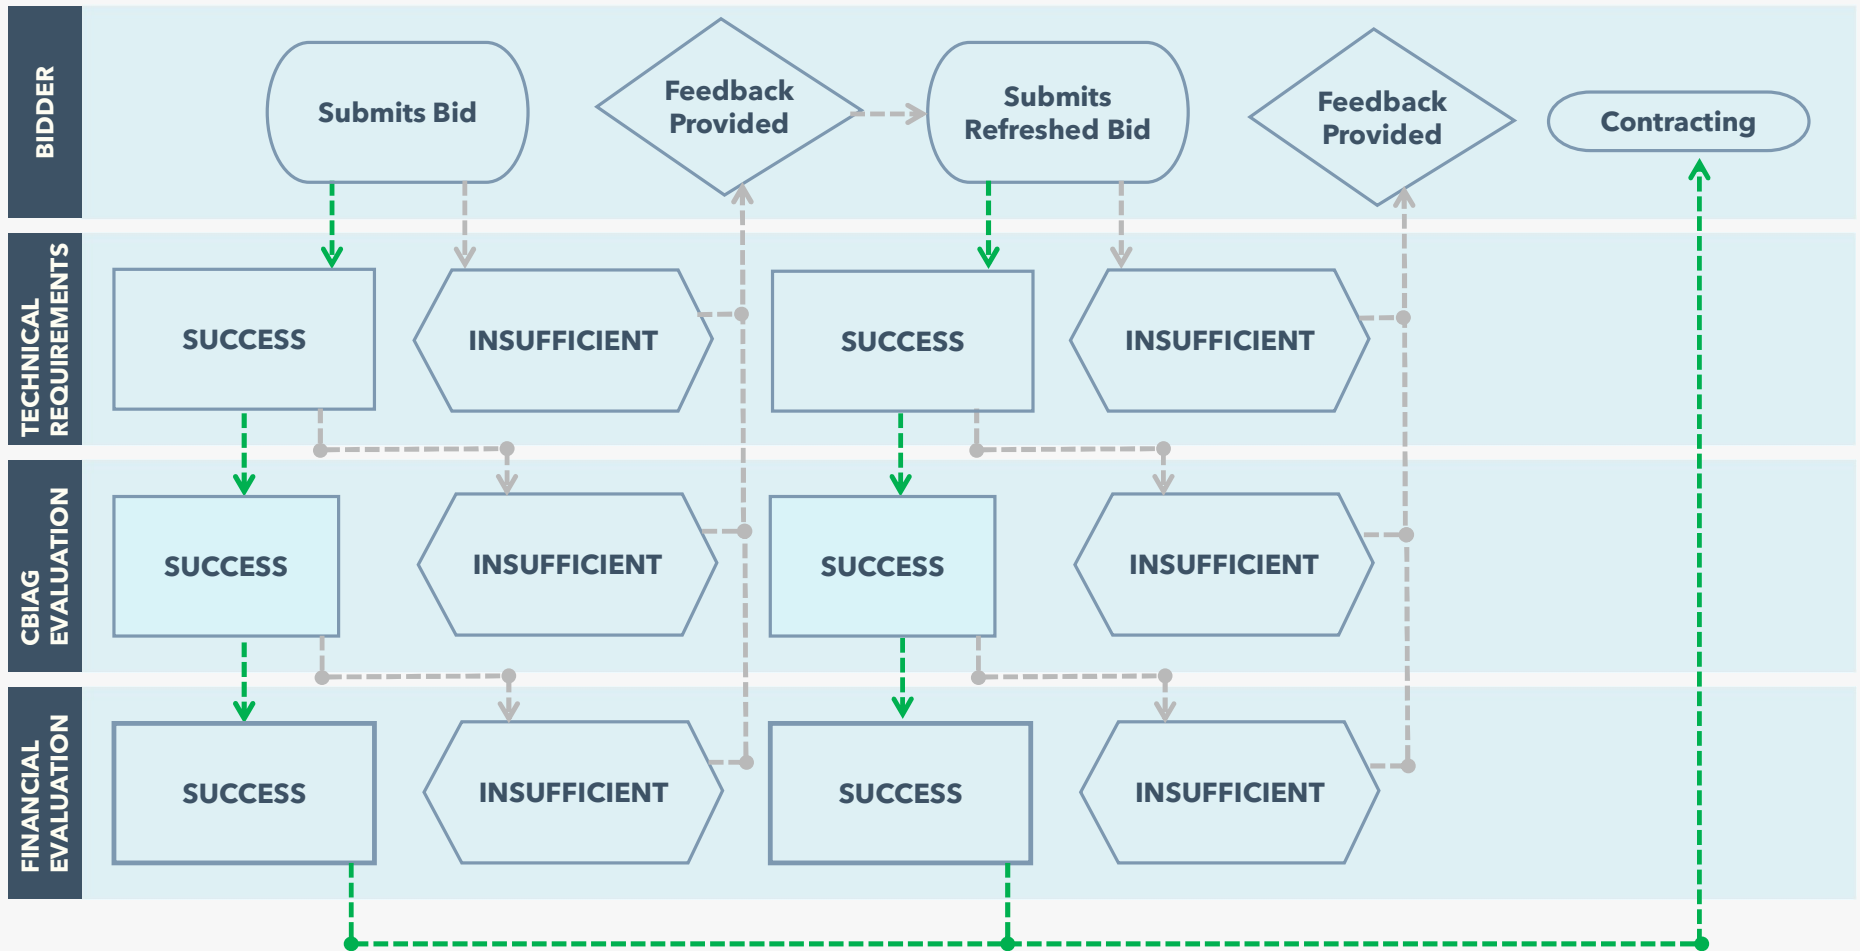

Timeline Review

Bidder Tracks

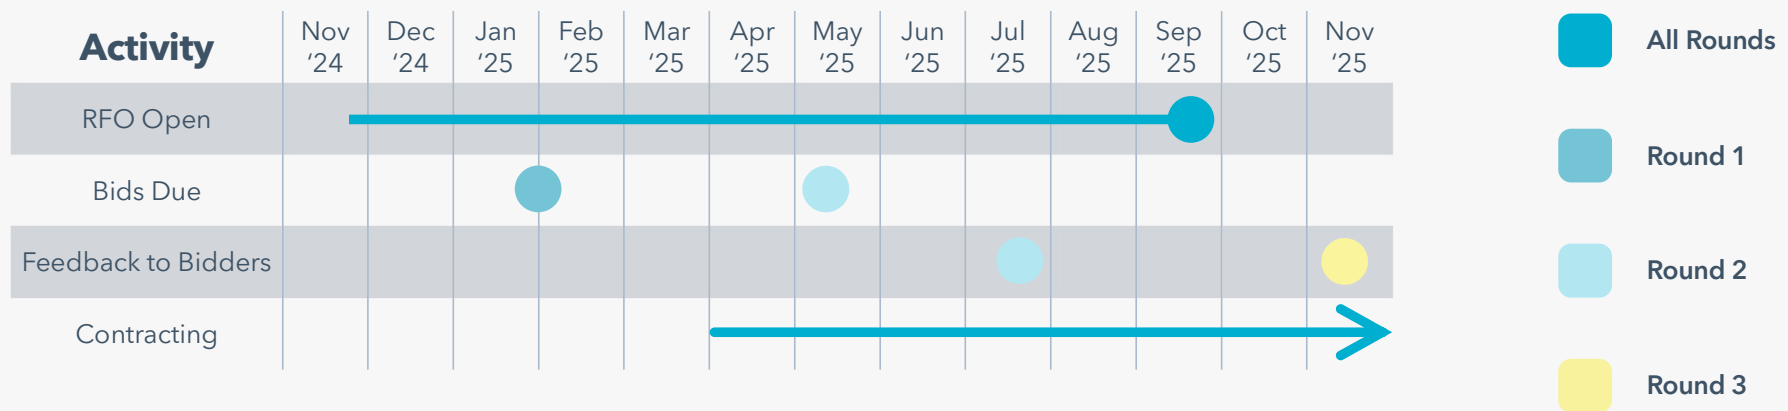

Up to 3 Review Cycles (2 shown), Bidder must meet cycle deadline for consideration

---> Track 1
 ---> Track 2

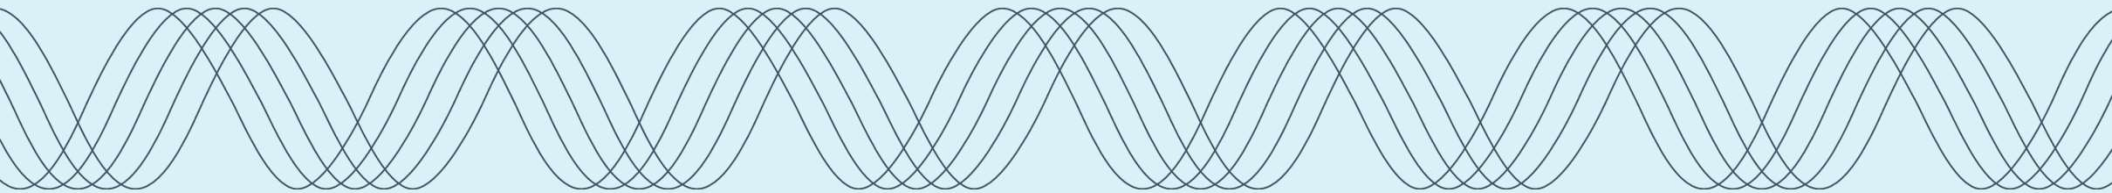

Anticipated CBRE RFO Evaluation Schedule

- Rounds 2 & 3 dates and deadlines subject to change. Any updates will be posted on CBRE website.
- Bidders may enter bidding at any time but if they miss submission by the due date for specific rounds, they will move to the next review round cycle.
- Bidders may update a submission for consideration in any round but will only be considered within the bounds of a review cycle. Bids submitted after round 2 due date will only be eligible for a single round of review during the 3rd round cycle and subject to remaining RFO opportunity.
- Successful bids will move forward to contracting. We may meet IRP target before round 3.

Networking Opportunity

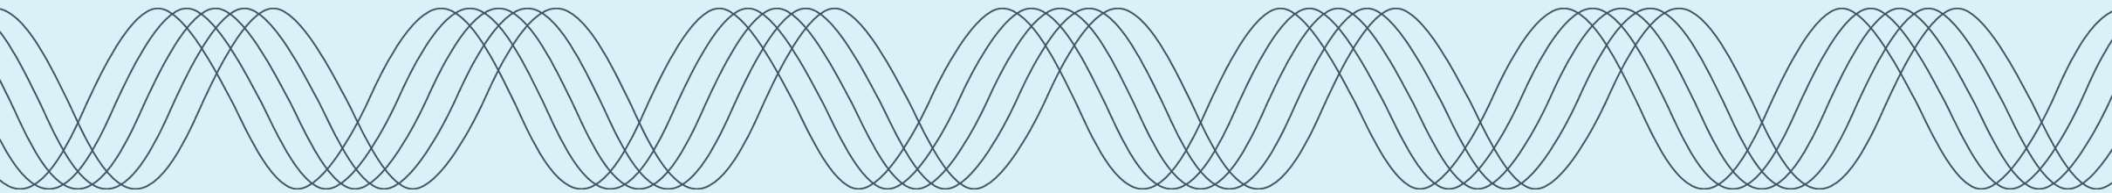

Increasing networks

- Those with expertise give PGE their permission to share their info with those who are seeking additional expertise
- Those interested in land give PGE their permission to share their info with those who express that they have land and are curious who would like to explore CBRE options with them
- Folks can ask to remove or edit their info
- Lists will be available to those who request throughout.
- PGE will not edit lists and does not endorse any company or organization shared.
- Participation in the networking opportunity does not create any advantage to those who submit an offer through the CBRE RFO

Q & A Process

Information Avenues

Official RFO Q & A

Submit questions by Dec 6 to
CBRE@pgn.com
Answers posted for all by Dec 18 on
CBRE website

Ongoing RFO promotion

PGE will continue to promote the CBRE RFO in the community.

Interconnection questions

Specific project-related questions should be directed to TransmissionProvider@pgn.com
(see "Resources" section on CBRE website)

Networking and Resources

Find additional groups with expertise and guidance via the
"Networking Opportunity"
Find additional resources under the "Resources" section
Both items are on the CBRE website

Thank you!

Portlandgeneral.com/CBRE

