A. RISK FACTORS RELATING TO GSFCI

The risk factors listed below are divided into categories. Sections A.I. (Risk affecting GSFCI as an affiliate of GS Group) A.II. (Risk of Creditworthiness), A.III. (Business Risks) and A.IV. (Risk related to Credit Markets) each form such a category. If more than one risk factor is included in a category, the most material risk factors shall be mentioned first. The materiality of the risk factors is based on the probability of their occurrence and the expected extent of their negative effects.

Only those risk factors are presented below which are specific to GSFCI and, in the opinion of GSFCI, material for taking an informed investment decision. In addition, before buying any securities, investors should carefully read and consider the risk factors described in the securities note for the relevant securities which, in the opinion of GSFCI, are specific and material to such securities. In addition, they should note and consider all other information contained in the Registration Document, the relevant securities note or the relevant (base) prospectus and, if applicable, the relevant final terms and all relevant supplements and, if applicable, all information incorporated by reference in the relevant (base) prospectus or a relevant supplement. Potential investors should also bear in mind that all the risks described may interact and thereby reinforce each other. If any of the risks described in the following materialize, investors could lose some or all of their investment.

I. RISK AFFECTING GSFCI AS AN AFFILIATE OF GS GROUP

GSFCI is a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. ("GSG" and GSG together with its consolidated subsidiaries, the "GS Group"). As a wholly-owned subsidiary, GSFCI relies on various business relationships of GSG and other GS Group affiliates generally, including the ability to receive various services, as well as, in part, the capital and liquidity of GSFCI's ultimate parent, GSG (see section "II.3. Risks relating to the creditworthiness of GSFCI due to the dependency of GSFCI on hedging arrangements" below). GSFCI remains an operating subsidiary of a larger organisation and therefore its interconnectedness within the organisation will continue. Because GSFCI's business relies upon GSG and other GS Group affiliates to a significant extent, risks that could affect these entities could also have a significant impact on GSFCI.

Furthermore, GSFCI relies upon certain GS Group affiliates for various support services, including, but not limited to, hedging arrangements, trade execution, relationship management, settlement and clearing, risk management and other technical, operational and administrative services (see section "II.2. Risks relating to the creditworthiness of GSFCI due to the dependency of GSFCI on hedging arrangements" below).

As a consequence of the foregoing, in the event GSFCI's relationships with other GS Group affiliates are not maintained, for any reason, including as a result of possible strategic decisions that GSG may make from time-to-time or as a result of material adverse changes in GSG's performance, GSFCI's net revenues may decline, the cost of operating and funding its business may increase and GSFCI's business, financial condition and profitability may be materially and adversely affected.

II. RISK OF CREDITWORTHINESS

Investors should take the creditworthiness of GSFCI (as well as the creditworthiness of GSG) acting as guarantor of securities issued by GSFCI) into account in their investment decisions. Risk of creditworthiness means the risk of insolvency or illiquidity of GSFCI, i.e. a potential, temporary or final inability to fulfill its interest and repayment obligations on time. In case of GSFCI, in this category the subsequent risks can be distinguished. In the category, "Risk of Creditworthiness" the risks are classified according to their materiality. The most material risks are mentioned first.

1. Risks relating to the creditworthiness of GSFCI due to the nature of GSFCI as an issuance vehicle with limited assets

GSFCI was established only for the purpose of issuing debt securities, lending these proceeds to affiliates and entering into derivative transactions with affiliates for hedging purposes, and does not carry out any other operating business activities besides that the authorised share capital of GSFCI amounts to USD 10,000,000 only as at 31 December 2023. Investors are therefore exposed to a significantly greater credit risk by purchasing the Securities compared to securities issued by an issuer equipped with significantly more capital.

In an extreme case, i.e. in the case of an insolvency of GSFCI, an investment in a security issued by GSFCI may mean the complete loss of the invested amount (risk of total loss), if the risk cannot be absorbed by a guarantee issued in favor of the investors.

2. Risks relating to the creditworthiness of GSFCI due to the dependency of GSFCI on hedging arrangements

To hedge its claims arising from the issued securities, GSFCI enters into hedging transactions with affiliates. In connection therewith, GSFCI is exposed to the risk of default of the parties with whom GSFCI concludes hedging transactions, i.e. GSFCI is exposed to the insolvency risk of the hedging counterparties. Since GSFCI enters into such hedging transactions primarily with Goldman Sachs entities, GSFCI is exposed to a so-called cluster risk compared to other issuers with a more widely spread selection of contracting partners. Therefore, an illiquidity or insolvency of companies affiliated with GSFCI may directly result in an insolvency of GSFCI.

3. Risks relating to the creditworthiness of GSFCI as a subsidiary of GSG

GSCFI depends on GSG for capital. All of GSFCI's unsecured debt issuances are guaranteed by GSG. The credit ratings of GSG are important to GSFCI's liquidity. A reduction in GSG's credit ratings could adversely affect the GSFCI's liquidity and competitive position, increase borrowing costs or limit access to the capital markets. There is no rating of the company regarding its credit risk by renowned rating agencies such as Moody's Investors Service or Standard & Poor's Ratings Services (see section "4. Risks relating to the lack of a rating of GSFCI" below).

GSCFI's liquidity could be impaired by an inability to access unsecured debt markets, an inability to access funds from GSG, or unforeseen outflows of cash.

Investors should note that an insolvency of GSFCI may occur despite of the fact that GSFCI is a subsidiary of GSG. A potential failure of GSG or a company affiliated with GSG and measures taken in accordance with the U.S. Resolution Regimes may also affect GSFCI. Under current law, GSFCI, as a non-U.S. entity, is not itself eligible to be placed into proceedings under the U.S. Special Resolution Regimes. However, GSG's resolution under the U.S. Resolution Regimes could have an impact on GSFCI as a direct subsidiary of GSG. The strategy described in the resolution plan of GSG is a variant of the single point of entry resolution strategy according to which subsidiaries would be recapitalized and be provided liquidity by the parent company in order to enable subsidiaries to continue to operate their business. Losses at the subsidiary level would be transferred to the parent company in order to avoid the resolution of the subsidiary. However, going forward the strategy may change. In this case, GSG's resolution may affect GSFCI as its subsidiary and measures under the U.S. Special Resolution Regime may become directly applicable to GSFCI.

It is to be further noted that except for the guarantee of GSG no further credit enhancement is provided. As a consequence, in case the guarantor fails to satisfy the liabilities arising from the guarantee, investors may lose parts of their investment or their entire investment (risk of total loss).

4. Risks relating to the lack of a rating of GSFCI

Investors should furthermore note that a rating is only available in relation to GSG and not in relation to GSFCI. As a consequence, investors cannot compare the creditworthiness of GSFCI with other issuers since there is no rating of the Issuer by renowned rating agencies such as Moody's or Standard and Poor's. Due to the lack of a rating, there is an increased uncertainty in relation to the creditworthiness of GSFCI.

5. Risks due to the lack of a protection by a deposit fund

In respect of GSFCI's creditworthiness, investors should also note that GSFCI is not connected to a deposit protection fund or similar safety system, which would cover all or part of the claims of holders of securities in the case of an insolvency of GSFCI. As a consequence, in case of insolvency of GSFCI there is no system or mechanism which would protect investors against losses of the capital invested.

III. BUSINESS RISKS

In the category, "Business Risks" the risks are classified according to their materiality. The most material risks are mentioned first.

1. Risks relating to the economic and market conditions

GSFCI is primarily involved in the issuance of debt securities in a number of markets and the proceeds from these debt securities are lent to affiliates. The activity of GSFCI and its annual issuance volume is affected both by positive and negative developments in the markets where it carries out its business activity. A difficult general economic situation may lead to a lower issuance volume and negatively affect GSFCI's earnings. The market of these debt securities depends particularly on the development of capital markets, which are in turn affected by the general situation of the world economy, as well as the economic and political conditions in the respective countries. A difficult general economic situation may lead to a lower issuance volume and negatively affect GSFCI's earnings situation, because e.g. it earns less fee revenues due to lower transaction volumes.

In 2023, the global economy grew, but was impacted throughout the year by broad macroeconomic and geopolitical concerns. Concerns about persistent inflation and the economic outlook were somewhat eased by improvement in inflationary measures over the course of the year and increased expectations for a soft landing for the U.S. economy amid a slowdown in the pace of monetary policy tightening, both contributing to improved market sentiment and on net higher global equity prices compared with the end of 2022. During the early part of the year, momentum was temporarily disrupted by stress in the banking sector, the failure of select regional banks in the U.S., and the combination of Switzerland's two largest financial institutions, resulting in a period of high interest rate volatility before concerns subsided after regional banks showed stability. Geopolitical stresses, including the conflict in Ukraine and ongoing tensions with China, remain elevated and have negatively affected the global economy. Additionally, the renewed onset of conflicts in the Middle East added to the uncertainty of global stability. The impact of these conflicts and the increased market uncertainty may impact GSFCI's business and operations and therefore cannot be predicted.

2. Risks related to changes in underliers

Many of the products that GSFCI issues, such as structured notes or warrants pay interest or determine the principal amount to be paid at maturity or in the event of default by reference to rates or by reference to an index, currency, basket, exchange traded fund ("ETF") or by reference to another underlier. In the event that the composition of the underlier is significantly changed, by reference to rules governing such underlier or otherwise, the underlier ceases to exist (for example, in the event that a country withdraws from the Euro or links its currency to or delinks its currency from another currency or benchmark, or an index or ETF sponsor materially alters the composition of an index or ETF, or stocks in a basket are delisted or become impermissible to be included in the index or ETF), or the underlier ceases to be recognised as an acceptable market benchmark or there are legal or regulatory constraints on linking a financial instrument to the underlier. GSFCI may experience pricing volatility, loss of market share in certain products, adverse tax or accounting impacts, compliance, legal and operational costs and risks associated with systems disruption, model disruption and other business continuity issues.

Further, GSFCI may experience adverse effects on the amounts paid on debt securities GSFCI has issued, amounts received and paid on derivative instruments the company has entered into, the value of such debt securities or derivative instruments, the trading market for debt securities, GSFCI's ability to effectively use derivative instruments to manage risk, or the availability or cost of its floating-rate funding and its exposure to fluctuations in interest rates.

IV. RISKS RELATED TO CREDIT MARKETS

Widening credit spreads for GSG, as well as significant declines in the availability of credit, could adversely affect GSFCI's ability to borrow on an unsecured basis. GSFCI issues debt securities, the proceeds of which are onward lent to GSG and/or its affiliates. Any disruptions in the credit markets may make it harder and more expensive to obtain funding for GSG's (together with its consolidated subsidiaries) businesses.
