

Energize your workforce with pet insurance

Add one of the most paw-pular voluntary benefits for your employees

Attract and engage leading talent with Nationwide® pet insurance

Connecting with your employees starts with investing in their priorities—including their pets.

As more and more people become pet owners each year, the financial responsibility of keeping those pets healthy expands—and so too does the appeal of voluntary benefits that reduce pet-related expenses.

Nationwide offers pet health coverage that's available only to employees through voluntary benefits packages. With Nationwide pet insurance, your associates can get the best care for their pets—without worrying about the cost.

Positive impact on both employees and employers

Companies that offer pet insurance tend to attract employees that show up to work excited, engaged and ready to contribute.

Companies that offer pet insurance vs. those that don't
