ACHIEVEMENTS

- The Web Developer Bootcamp 2021, Udemey (April 2021).

PROFILE

Khue is an ambitious software developer with an academic background in data science at Aalto University. Khue is eager to challenge herself professionally and likes to use her creative mind-set in order to solve even difficult problems at work. She has taken part in Aalto University's Ignite accelerator program that helps students to build their own product(s) or even found a startup company. Khue was chosen as one of the ~10% of highly handpicked applicants to the program which is a clear indication of her determination and hard-working mentality towards work.
