How we handle a complaint

We hope you won't need to contact us to make a complaint, but we know that sometimes things don't go quite right.

Our aim is to get things right first time, but we know that on occasion things don't go quite right and when this happens, we are committed to finding a resolution as quickly as possible. Our Customer Complaints Code is here to explain how to get in touch and how we can help.

Getting help (How to make a complaint)

We're really sorry you've had a bad experience with VOXI, we'd love to try put it right.

Talk to one of our team members through online chat

We're available 8am-10pm, 7 days a week.

Please include relevant details in your letter, including the issue you've had, the steps you'd like us to take, and your contact details.

- Our aim is to fully investigate and do everything we can to resolve your complaint as quickly as possible.
- We endeavour to resolve all complaints within 5 days. If the issue is complex or of a technical nature it may take longer and, in such instances, we will keep in contact with you regularly until a resolution is found.
- If you're not happy with the outcome to your complaint, please let us know and we will review your case. Our aim is always to find a satisfactory resolution and we will let you know if anything further can be offered.
- You can also fill out our online form - one of our agents will be in touch to support you.

If we don't solve your complaint - Alternative Dispute Resolution

You can get help from CISAS or the Financial Ombudsman Service if we haven't solved your complaint in eight weeks or you're not happy with our final response, or 'deadlock' letter.

Take your complaint to CISAS

The Communication & Internet Services Adjudication Scheme (CISAS) is an independent dispute resolution scheme, approved by Ofcom, which is free of charge. It aims to impartially settle complaints about communication and internet services that cannot be resolved between a customer and a service provider.

Read through their guidelines to make sure your complaint is eligible.

- Phone: 0207 5203 814 (standard rates apply)
- Email: cisas@cedr.com
- Post: CISAS, Communications & Internet Services Adjudication Scheme, 100 St Paul's Churchyard, London EC4M 8BU

Take your complaint to the Financial Ombudsman Service

If you've complained about a financial product we have recommended or introduced you to, such as PayPal Credit and you aren't happy with the final outcome or haven't received an outcome to your complaint after 8 weeks, you can choose to contact the Financial Ombudsman Service. They're free and will take an independent and unbiased approach to your case. You can read their leaflet which is available at www.financial-ombudsman.org.uk/leaflet for more information on what the Financial Ombudsman can help with.
