

INFORMATION ON THE PROTECTION OF PERSONAL DATA

Last updated: 31 January 2024

Protecting our customers' personal data is one of our core concerns.

This document applies to data that we collect online, on our websites and mobile applications, but also to data that we collect offline in resorts or on the ski area or during events.

It is our wish to provide you with all necessary information for a good understanding of how your data are used:

1. Who is responsible for the use of your data?
2. With whom are your data shared?
3. When are your personal data collected?
4. What data do we collect?
5. How do we use your data and for how long do we keep them?
6. Are there any specific measures for children?
7. Where are your personal data stored?
8. How are your data secured?
9. What are your rights relative to your data?
10. Any questions? Contact us!

1. Who is responsible for the use of your data?

When you book and/or access our services, your personal data are both processed by:

- Compagnie des Alpes, parent company of the Compagnie des Alpes Group, with capital of €25,266,567.50, registered with the Paris TCR 349 577 908, having its registered office at 50-51 boulevard Haussmann 75009 Paris,

And

- La SAS MERIBEL ALPINA affiliated company of the Compagnie des Alpes Group and operating the ski area of Meribel (outside of Meribel Mottaret), with capital of 3 235 500,00 €, registered with the TCR of Chambéry 353 065 964, having its registered office at 350 Route de Mottaret, 73 550 Les Allues.

In this policy the word "we", refers to these two companies, which may act together as joint controllers for the processing operations indicated below.

While Compagnie des Alpes is in charge of the management and supervision of the IT system used to collect and process your data, it is nevertheless solely up to Sevabel, as an autonomous data controller, to manage the contractual relationship with you, to provide you with the ordered services, and to carry out marketing and advertising operations on its services and brands or ancillary services on the ski area (WiFi, photos, ski instructions).

2. With whom are your data shared?

Compagnie des Alpes Group internal recipients :

Your data are processed jointly by Sevabel and Compagnie des Alpes, the parent company of the Compagnie des Alpes Group.

Within these two companies, your data are only accessible to a limited number of people, within specific departments (customer service, sales, accounting, IT, etc.), only if access to the data is necessary for the needs of their functions.

However, your data are not shared with other member companies of the Compagnie des Alpes group, unless you have expressly authorised us to do so.

Compagnie des Alpes Group external recipients :

Your data may also be shared with recipients outside of the Compagnie des Alpes Group:

- With all of our technical service providers whose intervention is necessary in order to carry out the processing operations indicated below (IT service providers, payment service providers, etc.), for the purposes of processing your order and improving our services and exclusively within the limits of our instructions;

- With social networks, only if you choose to create your customer account via the quick "social login" procedure.
If you choose this option, you will be able to use your Facebook, Apple or Google account to register on our site, without having to re-enter your details. By using this feature, you agree to share with us certain information about you from your social network.

The data sent to us by the social network include your surname, first name and e-mail address. These data are necessary for the creation of your customer account. We do not share information with social networks about your activities and orders on the site <https://www.skipass-lesmenuires.com/en/> and our mobile application, however these networks will have information relating to connections to your account. Before using the "Social Login", we invite you to read the privacy protection policies of the social networks to find out how they use your data.

- Apple
- Google

You may also receive communications relating to the activities of the ski resort where you purchased your ski lift packages. These communications are sent to you through our partnership with the tourist offices, with whom we write newsletters on the destination, as the ski lifts are a major component in the life of the ski resort. However, your data are not shared or reused by these partners in this context.

- Where appropriate, with national or local authorities, if required by law or as part of an investigation and in accordance with regulations.

3. When are your personal data collected?

We may collect your personal data on different occasions:

Online:

On our website or mobile application, to order lift passes, receive our newsletters, log in to your account or take advantage of our digital services.

Within our ski resorts and ski areas:

When you use our facilities, alone or with friends and family: at the checkout, at our automatic terminals, photography spots, disabled access, access to reduced rates, use of our public WiFi, ski lockers, video surveillance.

During our interactions with you:

When you open or reply to a newsletter, take part in a satisfaction survey or participate in a contest. When you call customer services with a complaint.

Via our Partners:

When you access our services through an intermediary (e.g. travel agencies, partner distributors, tourist office).

4. What data do we collect?

We only collect the data that are strictly necessary for their use, and no more!

Depending on how you use the ski area, the ski resort or our websites, we may collect the following information:

- Information required to create your customer account (surname, first name, e-mail address, date of birth, postal address)
- Payment information
- Telephone number
- Photographs (for the purposes of ski lift passes or via devices or terminals made available in the ski area)
- Video recording (for security purposes, and the protection of people and property)

6. Are there any specific measures for children?

Although the family dimension of our activities is at the heart of our concerns, we do not process any data specifically relating to children.

When our services are being used by persons under the age of 15, we recommend that they be accompanied by an adult. The consent of parents or legal guardians may be obtained when their personal data are collected, if necessary.

7. Where are your data stored?

All of your personal data are stored exclusively on servers located within the territory of the European Union.

Although hosted within the territory of the European Union, these data may be accessible from third countries when we use technical service providers (e.g.: AWS, Microsoft, Google), which are based abroad (i.e.: United States, Israel). Any access from these countries is considered to be a data transfer, but is necessary for the proper operation and maintenance of the IT tools that they offer. These service providers have real expertise that justifies their involvement.

We make every effort with these service providers to ensure that your data are protected in accordance with European regulations. These service providers only act within the framework of our instructions. Contracts are systematically signed with the latter, and transfers of personal data are governed by enhanced contractual clauses specifically designed for this purpose (standard contractual clauses - SCCs - published by the European Commission) where the laws of the country in question do not offer protection equivalent to the GDPR (so-called "adequate" countries). If necessary, additional technical or legal measures are put in place.

8. How are your data secured?

The security of your personal data is a central concern for the companies in the Compagnie des Alpes group, which pool their resources to ensure that you benefit from an appropriate level of security that is up to date with the state of the art.

In order to preserve the confidentiality and security of your personal data, and notably to protect them against unlawful or accidental destruction, accidental loss or alteration, or unauthorised disclosure or access, the Compagnie des Alpes Group takes appropriate technical and organisational measures, and imposes the same level of requirements on its subcontractors. These measures are adapted according to the sensitivity of the data processed and the risk level.

The Compagnie Group has put in place procedures to detect, analyse and monitor security incidents and any suspected breach of your personal data, and to be able to block access to the data at any time. Procedures for managing personal authorisations have also been put in place to ensure that access to data is as restricted as possible.

Despite our efforts, vulnerabilities may still be present in our systems. If you think that you have detected a vulnerability, please contact us using this form (vulnerability disclosure page), while respecting the principles described there.

9. What are your rights over your data?

You have a number of rights in relation to your personal data held by us:

- The right to object: You no longer wish to receive our commercial communications, object to a decision related to your profiling, or withdraw consent
- The right to rectify your data: change of home or e-mail address? let us know by keeping your details up to date!
- The right to access your data: you may request a copy of all your personal data held by us, in an understandable format.
- The right to erase your data: You wish to delete your entire customer account and erase all of your personal data in our possession. We will comply with your request, with the exception of accounting and tax records relating to your transactions, as well as those required for the creation of our evidence files (in the event of any legal proceedings), which must be retained.
- The right to freeze the use of your data: if you are faced with a litigious situation and wish to prevent the deletion of your data, your data will be retained without being used.

- The right to take your data: You wish to recover some of your data. You are then free to store them elsewhere or to transfer them easily from one system to another, so that they can be reused for other purposes.

You will find all of our contact details below for the exercise of these rights.

10.Any questions? Contact us!

Do you have a question? Would you like to stop receiving our newsletters? Delete your account?

We have appointed a Data Protection Officer to answer all of your questions and ensure the protection of your personal data.
