

Veterinarians in a Career Crisis

Clinician's Brief asked general practitioners for key insight into their day-day- work issues.

63%

Practicing vets who have considered leaving the profession.

1 in 4

Say they consider leaving the veterinary profession "frequently."

HELP WANTED

56%

Cite existing staffing shortages as one of the biggest stressors.

STRESSED OUT

1 in 6

Mental health and wellness is an area of major concern.

WHAT WOULD HELP

50%

Want clearer industry standards for workload and compensation.

LEND A HAND

1 in 3

Call for greater direct support from professional organizations.

CAUSE FOR OPTIMISM:

53%

Are encouraged by a growing level of investment in the care of companion animals.

POSITIVE TREND

4 in 10

Practitioners see increased attention to animal welfare, both in and out of the industry.