

War, Conflict and Genocide Studies

War, Conflict and Genocide Studies is an English-language series with peer-reviewed scholarly work on the impact of war, mass violence, and genocide on twentieth-century and contemporary societies, covering a broad range of historical approaches in a global context, and from diverse disciplinary perspectives.

Proposals are welcome for monographs and edited volumes blending analysis and empirical research on:

- Colonial and postcolonial mass violence
- Occupation regimes and societies
- The Holocaust at the local level
- Genocidal ideologies and propaganda
- Perpetrators/perpetration
- Survivor strategies and coping mechanisms
- War crimes and genocide trials
- Mass violence and displacement

Actively Seeking Proposals

The series welcomes scholarly monographs and edited volumes in English, by both established and early-career researchers.
