

851 317 10 5
Share Tweet Pin Email

The Best L.A. Hotel Lobbies to Just Hang out and Chill In

Who needs a room?

September 9, 2016 | Kari Mozena | Architecture, Nightlife | 0 Comments

Casa Del Mar

This grand hotel's lobby has ridiculously high ceilings and big windows facing the boardwalk and Pacific beyond. There is usually a smattering of people lounging on dark rattan furniture (which is covered in chic tropical prints) during the day. It is so large it's basically multiple rooms—the library is to the left and the sunny, atrium-like middle is divided by a large fireplace. It is a fantastic place to grab a few magazines and hang when your air conditioning isn't all that. The lounge bar is hopping at night.