Games and activities to play at home

Get Ready!

In this edition we have a really great book to share with you! It's called "How to Babysit a Grandad" and it's all about how you can have a great time with your Grandad when your parents go out...

Our Nanna Starlight loves to play games! So the next time you're hanging out with your grandad (or grandma, or anyone else you love!) you could play some of these games and activities!

Watch the video here!

Drawing Challenge

Do you ever draw pictures for your friends or family? Why not give it a go and maybe you can send it to someone!

Can't think of what to draw? How about a picture of you, in space, riding a unicorn? Or a monkey on a skateboard changing a light bulb! The possibilities are endless.

★ ★ IT'S GAME TIME! ★ ★

Reverse Hide and Seek

This game is just like hide and seek, except only ONE person hides at first!

Once one person has hidden, everyone else splits up and tries to find them. If you find the hiding person you have to join them in their hiding spot!

The game keeps going until only one person is looking and everyone else is hiding together.

This game is sometimes also called Sardines!

The Floor is LAVA!

It has finally happened. The floor where you are has officially turned into LAVA! Minecraft warned us that this moment was coming and now it's here! Now what?

Whatever you do... don't touch the floor... or you might explode! Can you make it to the safety of the next room without touching the ground at all? Good luck explorers!

All Gamed Out?

No problem! We've got you covered with some crafts you can do while you catch your breath!

Why not try some of these craft activities with your Grandad or Grandma (or anyone else you want to try them with!)

Lizards!

In the book they go searching for lizards and rocks on their walk... let's make our own lizard out of paddle pop sticks!

You Will Need:

- 4 Paddle pop sticks
- Textas or paint
- PVA Glue
- Google eyes
- 5 Pipe cleaners

1. First, glue together your four paddle pop sticks to make the lizard body.
2. Next, colour or paint the body whatever colour you like! Captain Starlight chose to make a green lizard.
3. Glue on pipe cleaners for your lizard's legs and tail! You can even twist the pipe cleaners to make feet if you like.
4. Finally, glue on two google eyes and you've made a cute lizard! What will you name it?

Biting Sharks!

Look out, SHARKS! Let's make our own bitey sharks that will wake anyone up!

You Will Need:

- This shark puppet template
- Coloring pencils
- Scissors
- Glue

1. Print and colour in this template (or draw your own)
2. Cut out the two straps and the shark.
3. Fold along the dotted lines to close the shark's mouth.
4. Stick the straps to the top and bottom of the folds at the back.
5. Slide your shark puppet onto your hand and chomp away!
