Conference Considerations - Code of Conduct - Photo Consent

☐ I Agree

The National Indigenous Fire Safety Council cannot guarantee that all food allergies and dietary restrictions will be accommodated. Severe food allergies must be brought to the attention of the National Indigenous Fire Safety Council staff prior to attending any in-person event. The National Indigenous Fire Safety Council will attempt to accommodate such allergies as is reasonably possible. The National Indigenous Fire Safety Council will not assume any responsibility to try to accommodate food allergies that have not been fully communicated to us prior to the event. The National Indigenous Fire Safety Council assumes no responsibility or liability for allergies or side effects caused by food or drink exposure or consumption by any participant during the event. The National Indigenous Fire Safety Council, in alignment with our commitment to fostering a respectful and focused atmosphere, will not be serving alcohol during the event. However, please note that the hotel and venue hosting our gathering may have alcohol available. Please ensure you consume alcohol responsibly and adhere to the code of conduct.

Code of Conduct

The National Indigenous Fire Safety Council is committed to providing a safe, respectful, professional, and inclusive environment for all participants during the 2026 Indigenous Public Safety Conference. The National Indigenous Fire Safety Council will determine what constitutes the code of conduct and will determine when a violation has occurred. Any inappropriate behaviour will lead to the immediate expulsion of the individual from the Indigenous Public Safety Conference and the National Firefighting Competition.

Photo Consent

I hereby give permission for images of myself captured during regular and special activities at the Indigenous Public Safety Conference through video, photo, or digital camera, to be used solely for the purposes of the National Indigenous Fire Safety Council promotional material and publications, and waive any rights of compensation or ownership thereto.

Refund Policy

☐ I Agree

The registration fees for the Indigenous Public Safety Conference 2026 are non-refundable. Registered delegates will have the option to transfer their registration to a designated individual in the event of their inability to attend. We strongly advise registrants to pre-identify a potential transfer in anticipation of unforeseen circumstances leading to cancellation. For the initiation of transfer requests, please email IPSC@indigenousfiresafety.ca

A separate form must be completed for each participant.
